TPG confirms lodgement of Federal Court proceedings

TPG Telecom Limited (ASX: TPM) (TPG) advises that, as foreshadowed in the announcement made on 8 May 2019, proceedings have today been lodged with the Federal Court of Australia seeking orders that the proposed merger between Vodafone Hutchinson Australia Pty Ltd (VHA) and TPG will not have the effect, or likely effect, of substantially lessening competition.

For legal process reasons, the Statement of Claim identifies VHA as the applicant and the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission and TPG as the respondents. TPG and VHA are working together to progress the proceedings and TPG supports the orders being sought in the VHA application.

The parties will seek orders for expedition of the proceedings.
