RHT: Contracts Executed with Novartis

Further to our announcement dated 19 November 2007, Resonance Health Ltd (ASX: RHT) is pleased to announce that contracts have now been fully executed for the delivery of the FerriScan[®] services to Novartis over several years.

The scope of activities being provided to Novartis will generate in excess of AU$1,000,000 in revenue in the 2007/2008 financial year, and includes MRI image analysis services for the quantification of liver iron, together with a range of data management and support services.

These contracts provide the Company with an excellent revenue stream while we continue to focus on our reimbursement submissions during 2008.
