ASX Announcement

24 October 2025

Response to Media

Coronado Global Resources Inc. (ASX: CRN) ("Coronado" or "the Company") refers to recent media reports that have included a range of unverified claims and speculation across several unrelated topics.

Coronado remains in compliance with its continuous disclosure obligations and will continue to keep the market informed in accordance with such obligations. However, the Company believes it is important to address one of the matters referred to in The Australian article today in the interest of transparency and to avoid confusion.

The Company confirms that there was a minor roof fall at an intersection in the northern district of the Buchanan Complex in the U.S. The fall was well away from the coal face, and did not amount to a "coal seam collapse." The roof has now been stabilised and production has recommenced in the northern district with immaterial production impact. Buchanan has dual longwalls, operating in both the northern and southern districts of the mining complex and the southern district continued to operate. Any suggestion of a longer term material impact of this isolated incident on the Company is incorrect.

This announcement was authorised for release in accordance with the Disclosure Policy of Coronado Global Resources Inc.
