Letter from the Chair of Quickstep

5 March 2025

Dear Quickstep Shareholder,

On behalf of your Directors, I am pleased to provide you with this Scheme Booklet which contains important information for your consideration in relation to the proposed acquisition of all of the issued shares in Quickstep by ASDAM.

Background to the Scheme

On 7 November 2024, ASDAM announced its intention to make an off-market takeover bid for 100% of the shares in Quickstep under Chapter 6 of the Corporations Act, at a price of $0.40 per Quickstep Share (Proposed Takeover Bid).

ASDAM had previously submitted an offer to the Quickstep Board to acquire 100% of the shares in Quickstep by way of a scheme of arrangement under Part 5.1 of the Corporations Act, at a price of $0.43 per Quickstep Share.

Quickstep announced at the time that the Quickstep Board's preliminary view was that the Proposed Takeover Bid did not adequately reflect the value of Quickstep, but that Quickstep was open to continuing constructive discussions with ASDAM.

Following receipt of the Proposed Takeover Bid, the Quickstep Board continued discussions with ASDAM.

On 20 December 2024, Quickstep entered into a binding Scheme Implementation Deed (SID) with ASDAM for the acquisition by ASDAM of all of the issued ordinary shares in Quickstep under a scheme of arrangement (Scheme). The Scheme is intended to replace and supersede the Proposed Takeover Bid, however, if the Scheme is not implemented, ASDAM will be required to proceed with the Proposed Takeover Bid. The Quickstep Directors believe that, in the absence of a Superior Proposal, the Scheme reflects a significantly improved set of transaction terms when compared with the Proposed Takeover Bid. Specifically, the Scheme Consideration represents a 44% increase over the consideration under the Proposed Takeover Bid.

The proposed acquisition is being structured as a members' scheme of arrangement between Quickstep and Quickstep Shareholders, which is a commonly used legal procedure to enable one company to acquire another company.

This Scheme Booklet sets out important information relating to the Scheme and the reasons why the Quickstep Board has unanimously recommended that Quickstep Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme together with the Independent Expert's Report. The Scheme Booklet also sets out some of the reasons why you may wish to vote against the Scheme.

For the Scheme to proceed, it must be approved by the Requisite Majorities of Quickstep Shareholders (the requirements of which are set out later in this Scheme Booklet), and by the Court.

The Scheme is conditional on a number of matters, as set out in this Scheme Booklet.

Please read this Scheme Booklet carefully and in its entirety. It will assist you in making an informed decision on how to vote.

Overview of the proposed Scheme

If the Scheme is approved and implemented, Quickstep Shareholders will receive $0.575 (Scheme Consideration) for every one Scheme Share which they hold on the Scheme Record Date.

To be approved, the Scheme requires a vote in favour of the Scheme by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting convened by the Court, the satisfaction or waiver (if capable of waiver) of all Conditions and the approval of the Court at the Second Court Hearing.

The Scheme Consideration represents a:

- 195% premium to the closing share price of Quickstep of $0.195 (as at 6 November 2024);
- 123% premium based on Quickstep's 1-month VWAP to 6 November 2024 of $0.258; and
- 109% premium based on Quickstep's 3-month VWAP to 6 November 2024 of $0.275, in each case being the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Proposed Takeover Bid.

The Scheme Consideration represents a 46% premium to the closing share price of Quickstep of $0.395 on 19 December 2024, being the last trading day prior to the announcement of the entering into of the SID (SID Announcement Date).

The closing share price of Quickstep Shares on the Last Practicable Date was $0.563.

The Scheme Consideration implies an equity value for Quickstep of $41,242,573.00.

Directors' recommendation

Your Directors have considered the advantages and disadvantages of the Scheme (see Sections 1.1 and 1.2) and unanimously recommend that Quickstep Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders.

Subject to these same qualifications, each Quickstep Director intends to vote, or procure the voting of, all Quickstep Shares that they hold or control in favour of the Scheme. Quickstep Shareholders should consider this recommendation in light of the fact that certain Quickstep Directors may have differing interests from other Quickstep Shareholders and the other ancillary benefits as set out in Section 9.

Each Quickstep Director considers that despite their interests as described in Section 9, it is important and appropriate that they make a recommendation to Quickstep Shareholders about how to vote on the Scheme.

While the Quickstep Directors are confident that Quickstep is well positioned to continue to deliver growth for Quickstep Shareholders into the future, the Quickstep Directors believe the acquisition of the Quickstep business by ASDAM will deliver strategic and commercial benefits and represents a compelling opportunity. The all cash Scheme Consideration provides Quickstep Shareholders with the opportunity to realise immediate value from their Quickstep Shares.

Key reasons for the Quickstep Directors' unanimous recommendation that you vote in favour of the Scheme include:

- the Scheme Consideration represents a significant premium to the trading prices of Quickstep Shares on the ASX prior to the announcement of the Proposed Takeover Bid and the announcement of entry into the SID;
- the Independent Expert has concluded that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders, in the absence of a Superior Proposal;
- the Quickstep Board has considered the advantages and disadvantages of the Scheme, and unanimously recommend that you vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders¹;
- as at the date of this Scheme Booklet, no Superior Proposal has emerged since the announcement of the Scheme;
- no brokerage will be payable by Quickstep Shareholders on the transfer of their Quickstep Shares if the Scheme proceeds; and
- the Scheme represents an enhanced set of terms when compared to the inferior Proposed Takeover Bid, and avoids the uncertainty, time and cost associated with Quickstep defending itself against the Proposed Takeover Bid.

Some of the reasons why a Quickstep Shareholder may wish to vote against the Scheme include:

- they may disagree with the opinion of the Independent Expert and the recommendation of the Quickstep Board;
- they may consider that there is the potential for a Superior Proposal to emerge for Quickstep in the foreseeable future;
- they may consider that the Scheme does not capture Quickstep's long-term potential and they may wish to participate in the future financial performance of the Quickstep business;
- the tax consequences of the Scheme may not suit the current financial position of individual Quickstep Shareholders.

Further details of the reasons why Quickstep Shareholders may wish to vote in favour of the Scheme are set out in Section 1.1.

Further details of the reasons why Quickstep Shareholders may wish to vote against the Scheme are set out in Section 1.2.

If the Scheme is approved and implemented, Quickstep will become a wholly owned subsidiary of ASDAM, Quickstep Shareholders will cease to hold their Quickstep Shares on or around 5 May 2025 and Quickstep will be delisted from the ASX. Quickstep Shareholders will, therefore, not be able to retain their Quickstep Shares and realise the value of them over the longer term. Further, Quickstep Shareholders will not be able to retain an investment in a publicly listed company with the specific characteristics of Quickstep in terms of industry, operational profile, size, capital structure, potential capital growth and potential dividend payments. However, there is no guarantee as to Quickstep's future performance or value, as is the case with all investments in listed securities.

Section 6.5 sets out details of ASDAM's intention for Quickstep if the Scheme is approved and implemented.

If the Scheme is not approved, and no Superior Proposal emerges, it is possible the price of Quickstep Shares may fall from current levels ($0.563 per Quickstep Share as at market close on the Last Practicable Date). As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, the Quickstep Board is not aware of any Superior Proposal and has no basis to believe that a Superior Proposal is likely to emerge. Further, if the Scheme is not approved, Quickstep Shareholders will retain their Quickstep Shares and will continue to be subject to the risks associated with Quickstep's business and general market risks. These risks are described in detail in Section 7.2 and 7.3.

Further, if the Scheme is not approved, ASDAM is required to make offers to Quickstep Shareholders on the same or substantially no less favourable terms than those outlined in the announcement of its Proposed Takeover Bid within 1 month of Quickstep or ASDAM announcing the Scheme will not otherwise proceed, or if orders from the Second Court Hearing approving the Scheme are not lodged with ASIC by 20 May 2025. Further details in relation to the Proposed Takeover Bid are set out in Section 5.11.

Independent Expert

Quickstep appointed Deloitte Corporate Finance Pty Limited as the Independent Expert to assess the merits of the Scheme and to provide an opinion as to whether the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders.

The Independent Expert has concluded that the Scheme is fair and reasonable and therefore the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders in the absence of a Superior Proposal.

The Independent Expert has assessed the value of a Quickstep Share on a controlling interest basis to be in the range of $0.44 and $0.59. The Scheme Consideration of $0.575 is in the upper quartile of the Independent Expert's value range.

The reasons why the Independent Expert reached these conclusions are set out in the Independent Expert's Report, a copy of which is included in Annexure 2 of this Scheme Booklet. Quickstep Directors encourage Quickstep Shareholders to read this report in its entirety.

How to vote

The Scheme is subject to approval by Quickstep Shareholders as well as by the Court.

The Scheme Meeting, which will be a virtual only meeting is expected to be held at 1.30pm (AET) on 14 April 2025. I, or if I am unavailable, Kym Osley, a Non-Executive Director of Quickstep will chair the Scheme Meeting. Section 3.4 and the Notice of Scheme Meeting which accompanies this Scheme Booklet set out further details about how Quickstep Shareholders can attend, vote and ask questions at the Scheme Meeting.

Your vote, as a Quickstep Shareholder, is important and I encourage you to submit your vote on this significant transaction. You may vote by attending the virtual Scheme Meeting, or by appointing a proxy, attorney or corporate representative to attend the virtual Scheme Meeting and vote on your behalf.

If you do not wish to or are unable to attend the virtual Scheme Meeting, I encourage you to vote by completing a Proxy Form and returning it so that it is received no later than 1.30pm (AET) on 12 April 2025.

I also encourage you to read this Scheme Booklet carefully, and in its entirety, as it contains important information that you should consider before you vote.

You should also seek independent legal, financial, taxation and/or other professional advice before making a decision in relation to your Quickstep Shares.

 - 123% premium based on Quickstep's 1-month VWAP to 6 November 2024 of $0.258; and
 - 109% premium based on Quickstep's 3-month VWAP to 6 November 2024 of $0.275.The Scheme Consideration represents a 46% premium to the closing share price of Quickstep of $0.395 (as at 19 December 2024, being the last trading day prior to the SID Announcement Date).
The closing share price of Quickstep Shares on the Last Practicable Date was $0.563.
- ✓ The Independent Expert has concluded that that the Scheme is fair and reasonable and therefore in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders in the absence of a Superior Proposal.
- ✓ The Quickstep Board has considered the advantages and disadvantages of the Scheme, and unanimously recommend that you vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders.²
- ✓ As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, no Superior Proposal has emerged since the announcement of the Scheme.
- ✓ If the Scheme does not proceed, and no Superior Proposal emerges, you will continue to be subject to the risks associated with Quickstep's business and general market risks.
- ✓ No brokerage will be payable by you on the transfer of your Quickstep Shares if the Scheme proceeds.

² Quickstep Shareholders should note the interests of Quickstep Directors when considering this recommendation. Details of those interests are set out in Section 9.3.

- ✓ The Scheme represents an enhanced set of terms when compared to the inferior Proposed Takeover Bid, and avoids the uncertainty, time and cost associated with Quickstep defending itself against the Proposed Takeover Bid.

REASONS WHY YOU MIGHT VOTE AGAINST THE SCHEME

- ✗ You may disagree with the Quickstep Directors' recommendation and the Independent Expert's conclusion.
- ✗ You may consider that there is the potential for a Superior Proposal to emerge for Quickstep in the foreseeable future (none has emerged as at the date of this Scheme Booklet).
- ✗ You may consider that the Scheme does not capture Quickstep's long-term potential and you may wish to participate in the future financial performance of the Quickstep business.
- ✗ The tax consequences of the Scheme may not suit your current financial position.

1.1 Reasons that you might vote in favour of the Scheme

This Section sets out the reasons why Quickstep Directors consider that Quickstep Shareholders should vote in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders.

1.1.1 The Scheme Consideration represents a significant premium to the trading prices of Quickstep Shares on the ASX prior to both the announcement of the Proposed Takeover Bid and the announcement of the entry into the SID.

If the Scheme is approved and implemented, Quickstep Shareholders will be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration for each Quickstep Share they hold on the Scheme Record Date. The Scheme Consideration is $0.575 cash for each Quickstep Share held.

The closing price for Quickstep Shares on:

- (a) 6 November 2024, being the last trading day on the ASX prior to the announcement of ASDAM's intention to make the Proposed Takeover Bid, was $0.195; and
- (b) on 19 December 2024, being the last trading day prior to the SID Announcement Date, was $0.395.

The Scheme Consideration represents a:

- (a) 195% premium to the closing share price of Quickstep of $0.195 (as at 6 November 2024);
- (b) 123% premium based on Quickstep's 1-month VWAP to 6 November 2024 of $0.258; and
- (c) 109% premium based on Quickstep's 3-month VWAP to 6 November 2024 of $0.275, in each case being the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Proposed Takeover Bid on 7 November 2024.

The Scheme Consideration represents a 46% premium to the closing share price of Quickstep of $0.395 (as at 19 December 2024, being the last trading day prior to the SID Announcement Date).

If the Scheme is not implemented and no Superior Proposal emerges, it is possible the price of Quickstep Shares may fall from current levels ($0.563 per Quickstep Share as at market close on the Last Practicable Date). As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, the Quickstep Board is not aware of any Superior Proposal and has no basis to believe that a Superior Proposal is likely to emerge.

1.1.2 The Independent Expert has concluded that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders, in the absence of a Superior Proposal

Quickstep appointed Deloitte Corporate Finance Pty Ltd to prepare an Independent Expert's Report providing an opinion as to whether the Scheme is fair and reasonable and therefore in the best interests of the Quickstep Shareholders.

The Independent Expert concluded that the Scheme is fair and reasonable and therefore is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders, in the absence of a Superior Proposal.

The Independent Expert has assessed the value of a Quickstep Share to be in the range of $0.44 to $0.59 per Quickstep Share. The Scheme Consideration of $0.575 per Quickstep Share falls within this range.

The reasons why the Independent Expert reached these conclusions are set out in the Independent Expert's Report, a copy of which is included in Annexure 2 of this Scheme Booklet. Quickstep Shareholders should carefully review the Independent Expert's Report in its entirety.

1.1.3 The Quickstep Board has considered the advantages and disadvantages of the Scheme, and unanimously recommend that you vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders³

The Quickstep Board has reached this recommendation having regard to the reasons to vote in favour of the Scheme, and the reasons to vote against the Scheme, as set out in this Scheme Booklet. The Quickstep Board considered the market position of Quickstep and the outlook for the Quickstep business in determining whether to recommend the Scheme. The views held by the Quickstep Board are supported by their deep industry knowledge.

In the absence of a Superior Proposal, and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders, each Quickstep Director intends to vote all of their Quickstep Shares, and the Quickstep Shares that they hold or control, in favour of the Scheme. Quickstep Shareholders should consider this recommendation in light of the fact that certain Quickstep Directors may have differing interests from other Quickstep Shareholders and the other ancillary benefits as set out in Section 9.

³ Quickstep Shareholders should note the interests of Quickstep Directors when considering this recommendation. Details of those interests are set out in Section 9.3.

1.1.4 As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, no Superior Proposal has emerged since the announcement of the Scheme

The Quickstep Board is, at present, not aware of any Competing Proposal. Moreover, the Quickstep Board considers that the possibility of a Competing Proposal that could give rise to a Superior Proposal emerging in the foreseeable future is low. Since the SID Announcement Date, no Competing Proposal has emerged to the knowledge of the Quickstep Board, and no Quickstep Director has received any approaches which could cause them to believe that a Competing Proposal is likely to emerge.

As set out in Sections 1.3.4 and 9.4.3, Quickstep is bound by customary exclusivity obligations, including in relation to Competing Proposals, under the terms of the SID.

1.1.5 If the Scheme does not proceed, the Proposed Takeover Bid is not successful and no Superior Proposal emerges, you will continue to be subject to the risks associated with Quickstep's business and general market risks

The Quickstep Board considers that Quickstep has a number of growth opportunities as an independent listed company on the ASX. Nevertheless, these initiatives will take time to fully implement and carry execution risk.

If the Scheme does not proceed, and if the Proposed Takeover Bid is not successful, Quickstep Shareholders will continue to be subject to these risks, as well as other specific risks inherent in Quickstep's business, including those summarised in more detail in Section 7 of this Scheme Booklet.

In addition, if the Scheme does not proceed, and the Proposed Takeover Bid is not successful, Quickstep Shares will continue to remain quoted on the ASX and will continue to be subject to market volatility, including general stock market movements, the impact of general economic conditions and the demand for listed securities. The price that Quickstep Shareholders will be able to realise for their Quickstep Shares will necessarily be uncertain and subject to a number of other risks including those outlined in Section 7 of this Scheme Booklet. There is no guarantee that, in the foreseeable future (or otherwise), Quickstep Shareholders will be able to realise a value equal to, or greater than, the Scheme Consideration.

The Scheme removes these risks for Quickstep Shareholders and allows shareholders to exit their investment in Quickstep for the Scheme Consideration that the Independent Expert has determined is fair and reasonable, in the absence of a Superior Proposal.

1.1.6 No brokerage will be payable by you on the transfer of your Quickstep Shares if the Scheme proceeds

You will not incur any brokerage on the transfer of your Quickstep Shares to ASDAM under the Scheme.

If you sell your Quickstep Shares on the ASX, rather than disposing of them via the Scheme, you may incur brokerage charges and potentially GST on those charges.

1.1.7 The Scheme represents an enhanced set of terms when compared to the inferior Proposed Takeover Bid, and avoids the uncertainty, time and cost associated with Quickstep defending itself against the Proposed Takeover Bid

The Scheme presents a more favourable set of terms when compared to the Proposed Takeover Bid, providing a clearer and more beneficial alternative. Specifically, the consideration under the Scheme represents a 44% increase over the consideration under the Proposed Takeover Bid.

If the Scheme is not implemented, ASDAM would be required to formally submit its Proposed Takeover Bid to Quickstep Shareholders, as outlined in Section 5.11. If this were to occur, the Quickstep Directors currently intend to recommend that Quickstep Shareholders do not accept the Proposed Takeover Bid, based on its comparative inferiority to the Scheme and the valuation of Quickstep Shares by the Independent Expert of being in the range of $0.44 to $0.59, among other reasons. Quickstep would incur additional expenses in defending against the Proposed Takeover Bid (for the avoidance of doubt, Quickstep would also incur additional expenses if the Quickstep Directors were to recommend that Quickstep Shareholders accept the Proposed Takeover Bid). These would include costs for professional advisers including legal counsel, corporate advisors, an independent expert, registry services and tax specialists, among others.

1.2 Reasons why you might vote against the Scheme

Although the Quickstep Board unanimously recommends that you vote in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders, some of the factors which may lead Quickstep Shareholders to vote against the Scheme are set out below.

1.2.1 You may disagree with the opinion of the Independent Expert and the recommendation of the Quickstep Board

Notwithstanding the unanimous recommendation of the Quickstep Directors that you vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders, you may hold a different view.

You are not obliged to follow the recommendation of the Quickstep Board and may not agree with the Independent Expert's conclusion.

1.2.2 You may consider that there is the potential for a Superior Proposal to emerge for Quickstep in the foreseeable future

It is possible that, if Quickstep were to continue as an independent listed entity, a corporate control proposal for Quickstep could materialise in the future, such as a takeover bid with a higher price.

Implementation of the Scheme will mean that Quickstep Shareholders will not receive the benefit of any such proposal. However, since the SID Announcement Date and up to the date of this Scheme Booklet, no Superior Proposal has emerged, and the Quickstep Board is not currently aware of any Competing Proposal, nor are the Quickstep Directors aware of any intention of a party to make a Competing Proposal.

1.2.3 You may consider that the Scheme does not capture Quickstep's long-term potential and you may wish to participate in the future financial performance of the Quickstep business

If the Scheme is approved and implemented, you will cease to be a Quickstep Shareholder in or around 5 May 2025 and Quickstep will be delisted from the ASX. You may consider that Quickstep has stronger long-term growth, particularly in light of Quickstep's strategic initiatives outlined in Section 5. In light of this, you may believe the Scheme Consideration does not fully reflect your views on long-term value. You may therefore prefer to retain your Quickstep Shares and realise the value of them over the longer term. Further you may wish to retain an investment in a publicly listed company with the specific characteristics of Quickstep in terms of industry, operational profile, size, capital structure, potential capital growth and potential dividend payments. However, there is no guarantee as to Quickstep's future performance or value, as is the case with all investments in listed securities.

1.2.4 The tax consequences of the Scheme may not suit your current financial position

Implementation of the Scheme may trigger taxation consequences for Quickstep Shareholders. A general summary of the taxation implications of the Scheme in respect of the Scheme Consideration to be received by Quickstep Shareholders is set out in Section 8.

This summary is expressed in general terms only and Quickstep Shareholders should seek professional taxation advice regarding the tax consequences applicable to their own circumstances.

1.3 Additional considerations relating to the Scheme

You should also consider the following additional considerations in deciding whether to vote in favour of, or against, the Scheme.

1.3.1 The Scheme may be implemented even if you vote against the Scheme or do not vote at all

You should be aware that if you do not vote, or if you vote against the Scheme, the Scheme may still be implemented if it is approved by the Requisite Majorities, the Scheme is approved by the Court, and if the other Conditions are satisfied or waived (where capable of waiver). If this occurs, your Scheme Shares will be transferred to ASDAM and you will receive the Scheme Consideration even though you voted against, or did not vote on, the Scheme at the Scheme Meeting.

1.3.2 Conditionality of the Scheme

Implementation of the Scheme is subject to the Conditions summarised in Section 9.4.1 and set out in full in clause 3.1 of the SID. If the Conditions are not satisfied or waived (where capable of waiver), the Scheme will not become Effective and Quickstep Shareholders will not receive the Scheme Consideration.

1.3.3 Warranty by Scheme Shareholders about their Scheme Shares

If the Scheme is implemented, on the Implementation Date each Scheme Shareholder is deemed to have warranted to Quickstep and ASDAM, and appointed and authorised Quickstep as its attorney and agent to warrant to ASDAM that:

- (a) all of their Scheme Shares are fully paid, free from all Encumbrances and restrictions on transfer of any kind; and
- (b) they have full power and capacity to transfer their Scheme Shares (together with any rights attaching to those Scheme Shares) to ASDAM pursuant to the Scheme.

1.3.4 Exclusivity

The SID includes certain exclusivity arrangements that Quickstep has made in favour of ASDAM. These include customary no-shop, no-talk and no-due diligence obligations, as well as obligations of notification of Competing Proposals and to providing a Matching Right to ASDAM in the event that a Superior Proposal is received by Quickstep. These exclusivity arrangements are described in further detail in Section 9.4.3.

1.3.5 Target Reimbursement Fee

Quickstep must pay the Target Reimbursement Fee to ASDAM in certain circumstances as summarised in Section 9.4.4 and set out in full in clause 12.2 of the SID.

Implementation of the Scheme
30 Are there conditions that need to be satisfied before the Scheme can proceed?	Yes. Implementation of the Scheme is subject to the satisfaction or waiver (as applicable) of a number of Conditions. These Conditions are summarised in Section 9.4.1 and set out in full in clause 3.1 of the SID. As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, the Quickstep Directors are not aware of any reason why any Condition will not be satisfied or waived (where capable of waiver). If the Scheme is approved by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting and the other Conditions are satisfied or waived, Quickstep will apply to the Court for approval of the Scheme.	Section 9.4.1
31 When will the Scheme become Effective?	The Scheme will become Effective if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) the Scheme is approved by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting; (b) the Court approves the Scheme on the Second Court Date; and (c) all other Conditions are satisfied or waived (as applicable). Subject to the above, the Scheme will become Effective on the Effective Date, which is currently expected to be 17 April 2025.	Key Dates
32 What happens if the Scheme is not approved?	If the Scheme is not approved by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting and approved by the Court, the Scheme will not proceed. If the Scheme does not proceed: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) ASDAM will not acquire the Scheme Shares; (b) you will not receive the Scheme Consideration; (c) Quickstep will continue to be listed on the ASX; and (d) Quickstep Shareholders will retain their Quickstep Shares and continue to share in any benefits and risks of Quickstep's ongoing business. If the Scheme does not proceed, and no Superior Proposal emerges, Quickstep Shareholders will continue to be exposed to the general market risks set out in Section 7 and the risk factors relating to the business and operations of Quickstep set out in Section 7. In addition, if the Scheme for any reason is not implemented, the ASIC relief obtained by ASDAM would require ASDAM to formally submit its Proposed Takeover Bid to Quickstep Shareholders (see Section 5.11 for further details). If this were to occur and on the assumption that ASDAM does not increase the amount of the offer under the Proposed Takeover Bid, the Quickstep Directors currently intend to recommend that Quickstep Shareholders do not accept the Proposed Takeover Bid, based on its comparative inferiority to the Scheme and the valuation of Quickstep Shares by the Independent Expert of being in the range of $0.44 to $0.59, among other reasons.	Sections 4.5, 5.11 and 7.4.2

Question	Answer	Section references
33 What happens if the Conditions are not satisfied or the SID is terminated?	If each Condition is not satisfied or waived (where capable of waiver) or the SID is otherwise terminated, the Scheme will not proceed. The SID can be terminated by Quickstep or ASDAM (as applicable) in limited circumstances which are customary for a transaction of this nature. The circumstances in which Quickstep or ASDAM (as applicable) can terminate the SID are summarised in Section 9.4.5 of this Scheme Booklet and set out in full in clauses 3.7, 13.1, 13.2 and 13.3 of the SID. Depending on the reasons for the SID being terminated, Quickstep may be liable to pay the Target Reimbursement Fee to ASDAM. The Target Reimbursement Fee will not be payable merely because Quickstep Shareholders do not approve the Scheme.	Section 9.4.5

Quickstep must notify ASDAM of, and ASDAM has a right to match, any Competing Proposal in accordance with the SID.	Section 9.4.3
37 What are the prospects of receiving a Superior Proposal?	The Quickstep Board considers the prospects of receiving a Superior Proposal to be low. Since the SID was announced on 20 December 2024, neither the Quickstep Board nor any of Quickstep’s Advisers has received any Competing Proposal from a third party and there are no third party discussions underway with Quickstep (or its Advisers) in relation to any Competing Proposal. Quickstep Shareholders should note that Quickstep has agreed to certain exclusivity and break fee provisions in favour of ASDAM under	Section 1.1.4

3. Details of the Scheme Meeting and how to vote

3.1 Details of Scheme Meeting

The notice convening the Scheme Meeting is attached at Annexure 1 to this Scheme Booklet.

The Scheme Meeting will be held virtually only on Monday, 14 April 2025 at 1.30pm (AET) through the online meeting platform at <https://meetnow.global/M5PZWX5>. Quickstep Shareholders will be unable to attend the Scheme Meeting in person. Instead Quickstep Shareholders may participate in the Scheme Meeting online.

It is intended that the Non-Executive Chair of Quickstep, Patrick Largier, will be the Chair of the Scheme Meeting. In his absence, for whatever reason, Kym Osley, a Non-Executive Director of Quickstep will chair the Scheme Meeting.

Instructions on how to ask questions during the Scheme Meeting are outlined in the Notice of Scheme Meeting in Annexure 1.

3.2 Voting majorities required

The Scheme needs to be approved by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting, which is:

- 3.2.1 at least 75% of the total number of votes cast on the Scheme Resolution by Quickstep Shareholders present and voting (virtually, or by proxy, corporate representative or attorney); and
- 3.2.2 a majority in number (more than 50%) of Quickstep Shareholders present and voting (virtually, or by proxy, corporate representative or attorney) at the Scheme Meeting.

The Court has the discretion to waive the second of these two requirements if it considers it appropriate to do so.

If the Scheme is not approved by the Requisite Majorities and approved by the Court, the Scheme will not proceed.

3.3 Your choices as a Quickstep Shareholder

As a Quickstep Shareholder, you have the following choices:

- 3.3.1 you can vote for or against the Scheme at the Scheme Meeting yourself, by attorney, by proxy or, in the case of corporate shareholders, by corporate representative;
- 3.3.2 you can elect not to vote at the Scheme Meeting;
- 3.3.3 you can sell your Quickstep Shares on market at any time before the close of trading on the ASX on the Effective Date (however, if you sell your Quickstep Shares before the Meeting Record Date, you will not be entitled to vote at the Scheme Meeting and any prior proxy appointment will be cancelled);
- 3.3.4 you can sell your Quickstep Shares privately following the Effective Date provided that the transfer is lodged with the Share Registry by no later than 5.00pm (AET) on the Scheme Record Date; or 3.3.5 you can do nothing, in which case:

- (a) if the Scheme becomes Effective and is implemented, your Scheme Shares will be transferred to ASDAM and you will receive the Scheme Consideration; or
- (b) if the Scheme does not become Effective and is not implemented, you will continue to hold your Quickstep Shares.

You should be aware that even if you do not attend the virtual Scheme Meeting, or do not vote, or vote against the Scheme, the Scheme may still be implemented if it is approved by Quickstep Shareholders by the Requisite Majorities, is approved by the Court, and becomes unconditional. If this occurs, any Quickstep Shares that you hold on the Scheme Record Date will be transferred to ASDAM and you will receive the Scheme Consideration for those Scheme Shares, even though you did not vote on, or voted against, the Scheme.

3.4 How to vote through the online meeting platform

Quickstep Shareholders can vote at the Scheme Meeting through the online meeting platform via <https://meetnow.global/M5PZWXs>.

3.9 Technical difficulties

Technical difficulties may arise during the course of the Scheme Meeting. The Chair has discretion as to whether and how the Scheme Meeting should proceed in the event that a technical difficulty arises. In exercising their discretion the Chair will have regard to the number of Quickstep Shareholders impacted and the extent to which participation in the business of the meeting is affected.

3.10 Scheme Record Date

Those Quickstep Shareholders on the Register on the Scheme Record Date, being 7.00pm (AET) on the second Business Day following the Effective Date, will be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration in respect of the Scheme Shares they hold as at the Scheme Record Date.

3.11 No trading on ASX after Effective Date

After the Scheme becomes Effective, Quickstep will apply for suspension of trading in Scheme Shares. The last date for trading Scheme Shares on the ASX will be the Effective Date.

3.12 Determination of entitlement to Scheme Consideration

For the purposes of establishing the Quickstep Shareholders that are entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration, dealings in Scheme Shares will only be recognised if:

- 3.12.1 in the case of dealings of the type to be effected by CHES, the transferee is registered in the Register as the holder of the Scheme Shares on or before 7.00pm (AET) on the Scheme Record Date; and
- 3.12.2 in all other cases, registrable transmission applications or transfers in respect of those dealings are received on or before 5.00pm (AET) on the Scheme Record Date at the Share Registry.

Subject to the Corporations Act, Listing Rules and Quickstep's constitution, Quickstep must register transmission applications or transfers which the Share Registry receives by 5.00pm (AET) on the Scheme Record Date. 3.13 Further information

Please refer to the Notice of Scheme Meeting set out in Annexure 1 for further information on voting procedures and details of the Scheme Resolution to be voted on at the Scheme Meeting (including who is entitled to vote on the Scheme Resolution).

4. Overview of the Scheme

4.1 Background

In 2024, Quickstep engaged with various domestic and international strategic parties and financial sponsors, including ASDAM, to gauge interest in an acquisition of the entire share capital of Quickstep. Certain non-exclusive due diligence materials were made available to a number of these parties who also received presentations on the Quickstep business by Quickstep management.

On 7 November 2024, ASDAM announced its intention to make the Proposed Takeover Bid on the following terms:

- 4.1.1 the Proposed Takeover Bid was for an offer price of $0.40 cash for each Quickstep Share; and
- 4.1.2 the Proposed Takeover Bid was subject to 3 conditions:
 - (a) minimum acceptance by 90% of Quickstep Shareholders;
 - (b) that during the bid period there were no prescribed occurrences; and
 - (c) the Quickstep Board waiving clause 6 (Standstill) of the Confidentiality Deed between Quickstep and ASDAM.

ASDAM had previously submitted an offer to the Quickstep Board to acquire 100% of the shares in Quickstep by way of a scheme of arrangement under Part 5.1 of the Corporations Act, at a price of $0.43 per Quickstep Share.

Quickstep announced at the time that the Quickstep Board's preliminary view was that the Proposed Takeover Bid did not adequately reflect the value of Quickstep, but that Quickstep was open to continuing constructive discussions with ASDAM.

On 20 December 2024, Quickstep received an improved offer of $0.575 per share from ASDAM and announced that it had entered into the SID with ASDAM under which it is proposed that ASDAM will acquire all of the Quicksteps Shares on issue by way of a scheme of arrangement. The Scheme is subject to a number of Conditions including approval by the Requisite Majorities, that no Quickstep Prescribed Occurrence occurs, Court approval and other customary conditions. The SID contains terms and conditions that are standard for these types of agreements, including in relation to the parties' obligations to implement the Scheme and Quickstep's obligation to conduct its business in the ordinary course during the Scheme process.

The key terms of the SID are summarised in Section 9.4. A full copy of the SID is attached to Quickstep's ASX announcement on 20 December 2024, which can be obtained from ASX's website (<https://www.asx.com.au/>).

Having carefully considered ASDAM's proposal, the Quickstep Directors unanimously recommend that Quickstep Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of the Quickstep Shareholders.⁶

⁶ Quickstep Shareholders should note the interests of Quickstep Directors when considering this recommendation. Details of those interests are set out in Section 9.3.

Subject to these same qualifications, each of the Quickstep Directors intend to vote all the Quickstep Shares held or controlled by them in favour of the Scheme. In forming their unanimous recommendation, the Quickstep Directors carefully considered the expected advantages of the Scheme and potential reasons to vote against the Scheme. These considerations are discussed in Section 1.

4.2 What will happen if the Scheme is implemented?

If the Scheme is approved by Quickstep Shareholders by the Requisite Majorities, is approved by the Court and becomes unconditional, all Scheme Shareholders who hold Quickstep Shares on the Scheme Record Date will participate in the Scheme even if they did not vote or voted against the Scheme.

If the Scheme becomes Effective:

- 4.2.1 at the close of trading on the Effective Date, Quickstep Shares will cease trading on the ASX;
- 4.2.2 ASDAM will pay the aggregate Scheme Consideration into a trust account to be held by Quickstep on trust for Scheme Shareholders;
- 4.2.3 on the Implementation Date:
 - (a) all Scheme Shares will be transferred to ASDAM (without any need for action by Scheme Shareholders); and
 - (b) each Scheme Shareholder will receive the Scheme Consideration in exchange for each Scheme Share held by that Scheme Shareholder at the Scheme Record Date; and
- 4.2.4 Quickstep will be removed from the official list of the ASX.

The detailed terms of the Scheme are set out in the SID and the attachments to it. In support of its obligations to provide or procure the provision of the Scheme Consideration under the SID, ASDAM has executed the Deed Poll in favour of Quickstep Shareholders, a copy of which is attached at Annexure 4.

If the Scheme is not approved, then the Scheme will not be implemented, and Quickstep will continue as a stand-alone entity listed on the ASX.

4.3 Scheme Consideration

The Scheme Consideration is $0.575 cash for each Scheme Share. The obligation to pay the Scheme Consideration may be satisfied:

- 4.3.1 where a Scheme Shareholder has, before the Scheme Record Date, made an election in accordance with the requirements of the Share Registry to receive dividend payments from Quickstep by electronic funds transfer to a bank account nominated by the Scheme Shareholder, by paying the relevant amount by electronic means in accordance with that election; or
- 4.3.2 whether or not an election referred to above has been made, by dispatching a cheque for the relevant amount to the Scheme Shareholder by prepaid post to their registered address. In the case of joint holders of Scheme Shares, any cheque required to be sent will be made payable and sent to the holder whose name appears first in the Register as at the Scheme Record Date.

4.4 Key steps to implement the Scheme

The key steps to implement the Scheme are:

First court approval	On 5 March 2025, the Court ordered that Quickstep convene the Scheme Meeting for the purposes of the Quickstep Shareholders considering the Scheme.
Scheme Meeting	Quickstep Shareholders will have an opportunity to vote to approve the Scheme at the Scheme Meeting. The Scheme Meeting which will be a virtual only meeting is currently expected to be held on 14 April 2025. It is proposed that the Chair of Quickstep, Patrick Largier will be the chair of the Scheme Meeting. The Scheme needs to be approved by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting, which is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) at least 75% of the total number of votes cast on the Scheme Resolution (virtually, or by proxy, corporate representative or attorney), where each Quickstep Share carries one vote; and (b) a majority in number (more than 50%) of Quickstep Shareholders present and voting (virtually, or by proxy, corporate representative or attorney) at the Scheme Meeting. The Court has the discretion to waive the second of these two requirements if it considers it appropriate to do so.
Conditions	As set out in Section 9.4, there are several Conditions which must be satisfied (or waived, although some are not able to be waived) before the Scheme can become Effective. These include approval by Quickstep Shareholders (at the Scheme Meeting), approval by the Court (at the Second Court Hearing) and other customary conditions.
Second court approval (at the Second Court Hearing)	If the Scheme is approved by Quickstep Shareholders by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting and the Conditions (other than Court approval) have been satisfied or waived (to the extent able to be waived) Quickstep will apply to the Court (on the Second Court Date) for an order approving the Scheme. The Second Court Date is currently expected to be 16 April 2025, although this may be delayed if there is any delay in satisfying the Conditions. The Court has discretion as to whether to grant orders approving the Scheme (even if it is approved by Quickstep Shareholders by the Requisite Majorities at the Scheme Meeting). If the Court approves the Scheme, Quickstep will take the necessary steps required for the Scheme to be implemented including lodging a copy of the Court order approving the Scheme with ASIC. The Scheme will become Effective upon lodgement of the Court order with ASIC, being the Effective Date, and this will be the last day for trading of Quickstep Shares on the ASX.

Scheme Record Date	Those Quickstep Shareholders who are recorded on the Register on the Scheme Record Date, being 7.00pm (AET) on the second Business Day following the Effective Date, will be entitled to receive the Scheme Consideration in respect of the Scheme Shares they hold as at that time (as recorded on the Register). Dealings in Scheme Shares prior to the Scheme Record Date will only be recognised if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • in the case of dealings of the type to be effected by CHES, the transferee is registered in the Register as the holder of the Scheme Shares on or before 7.00pm on the Scheme Record Date; and • in all other cases, registrable transmission applications or transfers in respect of those dealings are received on or before 5.00pm (AET) on the Scheme Record Date at the Share Registry.
Implementation	If the Scheme becomes Effective, the Scheme will be implemented on the Implementation Date (expected to be 7 Business Days after the Scheme Record Date). On the Implementation Date, ASDAM will acquire all the Scheme Shares from Scheme Shareholders and Scheme Shareholders will be paid the Scheme Consideration.

4.5 Implications if the Scheme does not become Effective

If the Scheme is not implemented:

- 4.5.1 each Scheme Shareholder will continue to hold Quickstep Shares and will be exposed to general risks as well as risks specific to Quickstep, including those set out in Section 7;
- 4.5.2 Quickstep Shareholders will not receive the Scheme Consideration;
- 4.5.3 a Target Reimbursement Fee of $412,000 may become payable by Quickstep to ASDAM under certain circumstances. Further information on the Target Reimbursement Fee is set out in Section 9.4.4;
- 4.5.4 Quickstep will continue as an ASX-listed entity with management continuing to implement the business plan and financial and operating strategies it had in place prior to the SID Announcement Date;
- 4.5.5 the price of a Quickstep Share on the ASX will continue to be subject to market volatility and may fall in the absence of a Superior Proposal; and
- 4.5.6 the ASIC relief obtained by ASDAM would require ASDAM to formally submit its Proposed Takeover Bid to Quickstep Shareholders (see Section 5.11 for further details).

4.6 Warranty by Quickstep Shareholders

If the Scheme is implemented, on the Implementation Date each Scheme Shareholder is deemed to have warranted to Quickstep and ASDAM, and appointed and authorised Quickstep as its attorney and agent to warrant to ASDAM, that:

- 4.6.1 all of their Scheme Shares are fully paid, free from all Encumbrances and restrictions on transfer of any kind;
- 4.6.2 they have full power and capacity to sell and transfer their Scheme Shares (together with any rights attaching to those Scheme Shares) to ASDAM pursuant to the Scheme; and
- 4.6.3 they have no existing right to be issued any Quickstep Shares or any other securities by Quickstep.

4.7 Delisting of Quickstep

Following the implementation of the Scheme, Quickstep will apply for the termination of official quotation of Quickstep Shares on the ASX and for Quickstep to be removed from the official list of the ASX.

5. Information on Quickstep

5.1 Overview of Quickstep

5.1.1 Overview and history

Quickstep is Australia's leading independent aerospace composite manufacturer, delivering advanced composite solutions for the aerospace, defence, and commercial sectors. Headquartered in Sydney, Quickstep was originally established in 2001 and has been listed on the ASX since 2005.

In 2021, QHL expanded into maintenance, repair, and overhaul services by acquiring the assets of Boeing Australia Component Repairs Pty Ltd in Tullamarine, Victoria, forming Quickstep Aerospace Services (QAS). However, QAS operations ceased in October 2024 due to declining customer demand, financial losses, and an unsuccessful divestment process.

QHL also operates an R&D and low-rate production facility for medium and large uninhabited air vehicles (UAV) in Geelong, Victoria.

5.1.2 Current operations

Overview

Quickstep specialises in engineering and manufacturing advanced composite solutions, serving global defence, commercial aerospace, and other specialty sectors. Its core capabilities include:

- a) aerospace & defence: manufacturing composite components for advanced defence aircraft, including the F-35 and C-130;
- b) UAV and urban air mobility (UAM): low-rate production of medium and large UAVs and some components for UAM;
- c) space: manufacturing space structures and hypersonic components; and
- d) engineering services: offering design for manufacture, prototyping to production, and development of proprietary products and sub-systems.

From an operational standpoint, Quickstep's current operations are split into the following divisions: 'Structures', 'Engineering & Development (Drones)' and 'Corporate'.

As of 31 December 2024, Quickstep employed 209 people, primarily based at its main production facility in Bankstown, New South Wales, with a smaller team operating at its site in Geelong, Victoria.

Excluding the performance of the discontinued QAS division, aerospace and defence accounted for 97% of Quickstep's revenue for FY24, with the balance of Quickstep's FY24 revenue (3%) derived from low-rate UAV production.

Structures division

Quickstep's Structures division generates revenue via the manufacture of composite components for aerospace and defence aircraft applications. These parts are ultimately sold to major defence companies under long-term contracts.

These contracts are underpinned by agreed pricing and volumes for each production lot, with each contract comprised of multiple lots across the life of the contract. The Structures division operates out of Quickstep's Bankstown production facility.

An overview of Quickstep's major customers and key products within the Structures division is provided below:

Customer	Key products / overview
Lockheed Martin	Wing flaps for the C-130J Super Hercules defence aircraft, as well as the LM-100 commercial variant. Quickstep has recently negotiated volumes and pricing for the post-MYIII contract, covering deliveries from February 2025 to December 2029, which include increased pricing effective from February 2025.
Northrop Grumman	Multiple fuselage components for the F-35. Purchase orders have been received up to lot 20, underpinning stable volumes through to FY27.
Marand Precision Engineering (division of ASDAM)	Vertical tails for the F-35. The latest agreed production lot includes pricing adjustments effective from September 2024, extending to June 2026.

Quickstep received notification of reduced customer demand early in 2024, as a result of excess inventories in the global supply chain. In response, Quickstep announced a restructure of the Structures division in June 2024, which incorporated an optimisation of its operating model. The change in production model involved a reduction in production and support employees, and transition from 3-shift to 2-shift model. This has ultimately led to enhanced operating efficiencies within the division, and a process that better matches customer demand.

Engineering & Development (Drones) division

Quickstep's Engineering & Development division was formally launched in 2021, and operates out of the Geelong facility. The division is engaged in the development of advanced UAV systems, catering to various applications including surveillance and transport. Quickstep's drone customers serve sectors including security, commercial industries (agriculture, infrastructure inspection etc.) and defence (surveillance, reconnaissance missions etc.).

Manufacture of Quickstep's drones involves its patented 'AeroQure' process. This process differs from traditional autoclave composite curing techniques by applying heat and pressure via a heat transfer fluid. The process ultimately results in significant cost savings via reduced cure cycles and energy consumption, lower setup costs and enhanced design flexibility.

Quickstep's key customers have included Swoop Aero and Carbonix, focused on production of drones for cargo and commercial / military applications respectively. Swoop Aero and Carbonix are both early-stage customers that have faced challenges in establishing their business models. Accordingly, despite multiple contract wins, it has been difficult for Quickstep to secure ongoing order volumes and timely payments. Swoop Aero entered into liquidation during 2024.

Notwithstanding the challenges faced by some of Quickstep's key drone customers, the division undertakes broader research & development activities as part of various partnerships.

Most recently, this involved an announcement to enhance the Geelong facility to support prototyping for drone components, in-part funded by a grant from the Commonwealth Department of Science, Industry and Resources (announced in June 2024).

Corporate division

Quickstep's Corporate division involves the group's administration (including finance, human resources etc.), management, and broader research and development operations. The division ultimately provides the administrative oversight of Quickstep, supporting the governance and strategic direction of the company.

5.1.3 Quickstep Group structure

Group Structure as at 9 November 2024

5.2 Quickstep Strategic Direction

Quickstep's current strategy involves the strengthening of its core Structures division, while expanding its reach through broader stakeholder relationships. Key areas of focus include:

- guided weapons and explosive ordinance (GWEO): collaborating with the Australian government and global primes to advance local manufacturing capabilities for GWEO;
- air mobility & space: driving growth and innovation in air mobility and space programs; and
- engineering: developing next-generation, scalable products and solutions to address evolving operational requirements.

5.9 Quickstep Directors' voting intentions

Quickstep Directors have considered the proposed Scheme and unanimously recommend that Quickstep Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to an Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders. Subject to these same qualifications, each of the Quickstep Directors intends to vote, or procure the voting of, all Quickstep Shares that they hold or control in favour of the Scheme.

5.10 Intentions regarding the continuation of Quickstep's business

If the Scheme is implemented, it is for the reconstituted Quickstep Board to determine its intentions as to:

- 5.10.1 the continuation of the business of the Quickstep Group;
- 5.10.2 major changes, if any, to be made to the business of the Quickstep Group; or
- 5.10.3 any future employment of the present employees of the Quickstep Group.

The current intentions of ASDAM with respect to these matters are set out in section 6 of this Scheme Booklet.

If the Scheme is not implemented, the Quickstep Directors intend to continue to operate Quickstep in the ordinary course of business, including with respect to the matters set out above, and for Quickstep to remain listed on the ASX.

5.11 Proposed Takeover Bid

On 7 November 2024, ASDAM announced its formal intention to make the Proposed Takeover Bid, subject to certain conditions.

Under the rules associated with takeover offers, ASDAM would ordinarily be obliged to make offers to Quickstep Shareholders in accordance with its Proposed Takeover Bid within 2 months of its announcement. However, ASDAM obtained conditional relief from ASIC in respect of this obligation. Under the terms of the relief, granted by ASIC on 20 December 2024, ASIC has allowed Quickstep and ASDAM time for the Scheme to be considered and implemented (if approved by Quickstep Shareholders and the Court, and if all Conditions are satisfied or (if permitted) waived). However, ASDAM is required to make offers to Quickstep Shareholders on the same or substantially no less favourable terms than those outlined in the announcement of its Proposed Takeover Bid within 1 month of Quickstep or ASDAM announcing the Scheme will not otherwise proceed, or if orders from the Second Court Hearing approving the Scheme are not lodged with ASIC by 20 May 2025.

Accordingly, if the Scheme is not implemented ASDAM will be required to issue a bidder's statement to Quickstep Shareholders (Bidder's Statement) which contains an offer which must be on terms that are the same as, or not substantially less favourable than, the Proposed Takeover Bid. No later than 15 days after the Bidder's Statement is despatched to Quickstep

Shareholders, Quickstep will be required to despatch a 'target statement' to Quickstep Shareholders which sets out the Quickstep Directors' recommendation on whether to accept the Proposed Takeover Bid.

An offer made by ASDAM in its Bidder's Statement under its Proposed Takeover Bid to Quickstep Shareholders will be on terms that are significantly less favourable than the Scheme, unless ASDAM determines to improve the current consideration of $0.40 per Quickstep Share offered under the Proposed Takeover Bid.

On the assumption that ASDAM determines not to improve the current consideration under the Proposed Takeover Bid, the current intention of the Quickstep Directors is to recommend that Quickstep Shareholders not accept any offer made under the Proposed Takeover Bid, based on its comparative inferiority to the Scheme and the valuation of Quickstep Shares by the Independent Expert of being in the range of $0.44 to $0.59, among other reasons.

Any possible alternative pathway which the Quickstep Board may seek to pursue following the Scheme not being implemented will be done so concurrently with Quickstep defending against the Proposed Takeover Bid. Accordingly, the Proposed Takeover Bid would weigh on any attempt by Quickstep to pursue an alternative pathway to maximise value for Quickstep Shareholders and cause Quickstep to incur additional costs.

5.12 Quickstep's publicly available information for inspection

Quickstep is a disclosing entity for the purposes of the Corporations Act and is subject to periodic reporting and disclosure obligations under the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules. These obligations require Quickstep to notify the ASX of information about specified matters and events as they arise for the purpose of the ASX making that information available to participants in the market.

Once Quickstep becomes aware of any information concerning it which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of a Quickstep Share, Quickstep must (subject to limited exceptions) immediately notify the ASX of that information.

Additionally, ASIC maintains a record of documents Quickstep has lodged with it, which may be obtained or inspected at any office of ASIC.

Publicly disclosed information about all ASX-listed entities, including Quickstep, is available on the ASX website at <https://www.asx.com.au>.

6.4 Rationale for proposed acquisition of Quickstep

The proposed acquisition of Quickstep is consistent with ASDAM’s strategic objectives of continuing to expand its sovereign capability and increase the breadth of service it can provide to its customers, who include defence primes, commercial clients, governments and defence forces.

Composite capability is incremental to the current capabilities of the ASDAM Group.

ASDAM is also currently one of Quickstep’s largest customers on the F-35 program.

6.5 ASDAM's intentions for Quickstep if the Scheme is implemented

6.5.1 Introduction

This section sets out ASDAM's present intentions only with respect to the Quickstep Group if the Scheme is implemented, and is based on the information concerning the Quickstep Group and the general business environment which is known to ASDAM at the time of preparation of this Scheme Booklet.

If the Scheme is implemented, ASDAM intends to undertake a detailed review of Quickstep's operations, covering strategic, financial and commercial operating matters. Final decisions about the future operating plan and management organisation for Quickstep will be made following the completion of such review, and will be based on the facts and circumstances at the relevant time. Accordingly, the statements set out in this section are statements of present intention and may change as new information becomes available, or as circumstances change.

Based on the facts and information concerning both Quickstep and the general business environment that are known to ASDAM at the time of preparation of this Scheme Booklet, ASDAM's current intentions if the Scheme proceeds are detailed below.

6.5.2 Business operations

Subject to the findings of the post-acquisition review referred to above, ASDAM's intention is to continue to operate Quickstep consistent with management's business plan, including actively pursuing growth opportunities available to Quickstep.

6.5.3 Quickstep Board

ASDAM's intention is to reconstitute the Quickstep Board and the board of each Quickstep Subsidiary, such that the current directors will be replaced, with effect on and from the Implementation Date. At the date of this Scheme Booklet, the post-acquisition composition of the Quickstep Board and the board of each Quickstep Subsidiary has not been confirmed.

6.5.4 Management team and employees

ASDAM considers Quickstep's employees to be critical to the future success of the business and ASDAM intends to assist management with continuing to implement their strategic plans for the business.

Working with Quickstep's senior management, ASDAM will review Quickstep's operations and organisational structure, to ensure the business has the resources to enable the business to pursue growth opportunities.

6.5.5 Delisting

All of the Quickstep Shares will be held by ASDAM, and it is intended that the quotation of Quickstep Shares on the ASX will be terminated and Quickstep will be removed from the official list of the ASX on a date after the Implementation Date to be determined by ASDAM.

6.5.6 Constitution

ASDAM intends to replace Quickstep's constitution following implementation of the Scheme with a constitution on terms which are typical for an Australian proprietary company limited by shares. This is consistent with the intention that Quickstep Shares will no longer be publicly listed and Quickstep will be converted into a proprietary company limited by shares following implementation of the Scheme.

6.6 Funding of the Scheme Consideration

If the Scheme is implemented, Scheme Shareholders will receive $0.575 cash for each Scheme Share they hold as at the Scheme Record Date. The maximum amount payable by ASDAM if the Scheme is implemented is estimated to be approximately $41.2 million, based on Quickstep's issued share capital as at the date of the Scheme Booklet.

ASDAM intends to fully fund payment of the aggregate Scheme Consideration using existing cash reserves and the drawdown of existing debt facilities available to it. The Scheme is not subject to any financing condition precedent.

As at 30 June 2024 (being the last day of the last financial year for which ASDAM has audited financial statements), ASDAM had available cash at bank and on deposit with an aggregate value of approximately $67 million and unused banking financing facilities available of approximately $50 million.

6.7 No other material information

Other than as disclosed in this Scheme Booklet, there is no information regarding ASDAM, or its intentions regarding the Quickstep Group, that is material to the making of a decision by a Quickstep Shareholder on whether or not to vote in favour of the Scheme that is within the knowledge of any director of ASDAM as at the date of this Scheme Booklet that has not previously been disclosed to Quickstep Shareholders.

7. Investment Risk | What if the Scheme is not implemented?

7.1 Introduction

The Scheme presents a number of potential risks that Quickstep Shareholders should consider when deciding how to vote on the Scheme. In making your decision, you should carefully read this Scheme Booklet in its entirety. You should also carefully consider the risk factors outlined in this Section and your personal circumstances. This Section is general in nature only and does not take into account your individual objectives, financial situation, tax position or particular needs.

This Section outlines some of the:

- 7.1.1 risk factors relating to the business and operations of Quickstep, including your current investment in Quickstep Shares (see Sections 7.2 and 7.3); and
- 7.1.2 Scheme-related risk factors which may prevent the Scheme from becoming Effective (see Section 7.4).

If the Scheme is implemented, Scheme Shareholders will receive the Scheme Consideration and, from implementation of the Scheme, will cease to be Quickstep Shareholders and will no longer be exposed to the risks set out in Sections 7.2 and 7.3.

If the Scheme is not implemented, Quickstep Shares will remain quoted on the ASX and all Quickstep Shareholders will continue to be subject to the risks in Sections 7.2 and 7.3.

The outline of risks in this Section 7 is a summary only and should not be considered exhaustive. This Section 7 does not purport to list every risk that may be associated with an investment in Quickstep now or in the future or which may prevent the Scheme from becoming Effective or being implemented. The occurrence or consequences of some of the risks described in this Section 7 may be partially or completely outside the control of Quickstep and ASDAM or their respective directors and senior management teams.

The risk factors do not take into account the individual investment objectives, financial situation, position or particular needs of Quickstep Shareholders. You should carefully consider the risk factors discussed in this Section 7, as well as the other information contained in this Scheme Booklet, before voting on the Scheme.

7.2 General investment risks

If the Scheme does not become Effective, Quickstep Shares will be influenced by a number of macroeconomic factors including:

- 7.2.1 changes in investor sentiment and overall performance of the Australian and international stock markets;
- 7.2.2 changes in general business, industry cycles and economic conditions including inflation, interest rates, exchange rates, commodity prices, employment levels, wage rates, property markets including rising building costs, house prices and residential supply and demand, population growth, retail sales and consumer demand;
- 7.2.3 changes in government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies, including foreign investment and immigration;

- 7.2.4 the impact of rising rates of inflation globally;
- 7.2.5 natural disasters and catastrophes, whether on a global, regional or local scale;
- 7.2.6 acts of war and hostilities (including the Russia-Ukraine conflict which remains ongoing as at the date of this Scheme Booklet), acts of terrorism, civil disturbance and other force majeure risks; and
- 7.2.7 accounting standards which affect the financial performance and position reported by Quickstep.

7.3 Specific risks for the Quickstep Business and operations

In considering the Scheme, you should be aware that there are a number of general risk factors, as well as risks specific to the industries in which Quickstep operates, which could materially and adversely affect the future operating and financial performance of Quickstep.

Many of these risks are currently relevant to Quickstep Shareholders and will continue to be relevant to Quickstep Shareholders if the Scheme does not become Effective and you retain your current investment in Quickstep.

While Quickstep has in place what it considers are appropriate policies and procedures to help manage these risks, there is no guarantee that Quickstep will be able to manage these risks completely. Furthermore, certain aspects of these risks (or Quickstep's ability to respond to and manage them) may be partially or wholly outside of Quickstep's control.

7.3.1 Current performance and growth

Quickstep's financial performance has recently improved, following the successful implementation of the restructure within its core aerospace & defence division, and exit of QAS. Quickstep's current long-term contracts for the F-35 and C-130 programs now account for materially all of Quickstep's revenue. While these contracts provide stable and mature revenue streams, the underlying programs will eventually conclude as next generation platforms emerge. Though pricing and volumes are fixed for current production lots in the medium-term, those for subsequent lots (under the same contracts) are subject to negotiation and may accordingly result in reduced revenues and profitability.

Growth in the aerospace market relevant to Quickstep is primarily driven by the needs of international and Australian defence customers. Quickstep is actively engaging with numerous stakeholders, including key defence customers, in pursuit of additional revenue streams and ultimately a more diversified revenue base. While Quickstep is confident that it will be successful in diversifying its revenue base, it is yet to secure alternate contracts of sufficient magnitude to 'replace' its current major programs when they conclude.

7.3.2 Local industry outlook

Defence strategies, both in Australia and globally, are increasingly focused on emerging and disruptive technologies, such as guided weapons and UAVs. Quickstep has identified these areas as key growth opportunities, which align with the Australian Defence Force's priorities. However, these markets are highly competitive, requiring strategic positioning and innovation to succeed.

7.3.3 Supply chain cost inflation

Global and domestic inflationary pressures have been and continue to be a strong theme within the aerospace and defence manufacturing sector. Along with direct inflation impacts, the absence of alternative suppliers in some cases exposes Quickstep to potential price increases and production disruptions. Tight management of the supply chain, along with price negotiations has largely mitigated disruptions to date, however a degree of risk remains.

7.3.4 Change in US government

The majority of Quickstep's manufactured goods are exported to the US Department of Defence. The recent change in the US federal government may see tariffs imposed on businesses and government agencies importing foreign manufactured goods into the US and/or a decrease in funding for certain government departments, such as the Department of Defence. Either of these two outcomes has the potential to disrupt the demand for goods manufactured by Quickstep, including under the current F-35 and C-130 programs.

7.3.5 Political and regulatory environment risk

Quickstep's business is influenced and affected by laws, regulations and government policy. Political and / or regulatory change, and Quickstep's ability to comply with regulations, could enable or inhibit Quickstep's business objectives.

Changes could affect Quickstep's ability to achieve business objectives and financial performance. For example by:

- (a) limiting or removing authority / licences to operate;
- (b) changing how a business operates; and/or
- (c) altering resource requirements, operating efficiency and profitability.

7.3.6 Equipment failure

An extended failure of critical equipment has the potential to disrupt production. Any such disruptions are likely to adversely impact Quickstep's financial position and its ability to manufacture finished goods, with potential for further negative impacts arising from potential damage to customer relationships and / or Quickstep's reputation with broader stakeholder groups.

Preventative maintenance programmes, including the major overhaul of key assets, monitoring tools, critical spares stock and equipment supplier support arrangements, are in place to mitigate this risk.

7.3.7 Flooding

The area of Bankstown, New South Wales, where Quickstep's core business operations are located, is susceptible to localised flooding from nearby tributaries. Whilst historical water egress on the site itself has been minimal, employee access to the site has been impacted for periods of time, which has the potential to disrupt production.

7.3.8 Reliance on key personnel

Quickstep currently employs a number of executive and non-executive key management personnel, and Quickstep's future success depends on retaining and attracting suitably qualified personnel. There is significant competition for qualified staff in the Defence sector in Australia, and the loss of any such key management personnel could have the potential to detrimentally impact on Quickstep, until the skills which are lost are adequately replaced. There is no guarantee that Quickstep would be able to replace such personnel, and a failure to do so could materially affect Quickstep's business, operating results and financial prospects.

7.3.9 Cashflow risk and liquidity

Quickstep's ability to service its debt and other obligations depends on the future performance and cash flow of its business, which, to a certain extent, is subject to general economic, financial, competitive, legislative, regulatory and other factors, many of which are beyond Quickstep's control.

Any inability to secure sufficient debt funding (including to refinance on acceptable terms), or to service its existing and new debt, may have a material adverse effect on Quickstep's financial performance and prospects.

In Quickstep's results for the half year ended 31 December 2024, which were announced to the ASX on 24 February 2025, the auditors noted the existence of a material uncertainty that may cast doubt about Quickstep's ability to continue as a going concern. For more information, please refer to the Independent Auditors Review Report and Note A2 of Quickstep's report for the half year ended 31 December 2024.

7.3.10 Intellectual property

Quickstep regards its patents, copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets and similar intellectual property as important. Quickstep relies on patent trademark and copyright law, trade secret protection and duties of confidence with third parties to protect its intellectual property rights. While Quickstep will use all reasonable endeavours to protect these rights, the steps that Quickstep takes to protect its intellectual property rights may be inadequate. The unauthorised use or disclosure of its proprietary technology and systems may have adverse effects on the operation and financial performance of Quickstep.

7.3.11 Technology and information systems

Quickstep's operations are heavily reliant upon technology and information systems provided by third parties, including software. The ongoing performance of such systems and software is key to Quickstep's product and service delivery to its clients, and therefore, Quickstep's ability to generate revenue. Failure of either the software or the technology that underpins it, including via unauthorised use of systems, data integrity issues, data loss, or issues with integration with other systems, could result in Quickstep being unable to meet its contractual obligations.

Quickstep must maintain a high level of cyber security and IT system security to be awarded defence contracts, and any perceived failure from a security or cyber perspective can lead to a loss of defence manufacturing accreditation.

Quickstep has business continuity and disaster recovery plans in place, in seeking to mitigate the potential impact of technology failures or interruptions effecting the availability of such technology and systems. However, there remains a risk that a system failure may result in disruptions to business continuity, costs to Quickstep and potential losses of existing customers, and / or difficulty in attracting new customers.

7.3.12 Foreign exchange

The reliance on sales from key customers which are billed in US dollars and the sourcing of raw material product in US dollars directly impacts both sales and operating profit, and Quickstep is consequently exposed to adverse movements in exchange rates. Quickstep has adopted a foreign exchange hedging policy which is considered to be suitable to the business. The risk associated with exchange rate fluctuation is expected to continue, and is managed accordingly through the hedging policy.

7.3.13 Insurance risk

While Quickstep currently maintains insurance within ranges of coverage consistent with industry practice, no guarantee can be given that Quickstep will be able to continue to maintain such insurance coverage at reasonable rates (or at all), or that any coverage it obtains will be adequate and available to cover any such claims. As Quickstep operates in the aerospace defence sector, insurers assess insurance risk at a global level and consider macro impacts of a client's portfolio risk. Global events may impact on how an insurer assesses Quickstep as an insurance risk.

7.3.14 Evolving expectations with respect to environmental, social and governance (ESG) standards, and climate change

Evolving community attitudes towards, and increasing regulation and disclosure in relation to, ESG issues may impact Quickstep's business. Increased expectations, and in particular the failure to meet those expectations, could impact on Quickstep's profitability, restrict access to financing or investment and increase compliance costs associated with meeting prevailing regulatory and disclosure standards. These factors could have an adverse effect on Quickstep's business, financial position and prospects. In addition, the impact of climate change and climate related events could negatively impact Quickstep's operations.

7.4 Scheme-related implications

7.4.1 Risks relating to implementing the Scheme

Satisfaction or waiver of Conditions

The Scheme is subject to various Conditions that must be satisfied or waived (if capable of waiver) in order for the Scheme to be implemented. These Conditions are outlined in further detail in Section 9.4.1 and set out in full in clause 3 of the SID. The failure of a Condition to be satisfied or waived (if capable of waiver) may also give rise to a right of either Quickstep or ASDAM to terminate the SID.

The Conditions include, for example, approval by the Court and approval by Quickstep Shareholders. There is a risk that the Court may not approve the Scheme, or may only be willing to approve the Scheme subject to conditions that Quickstep and ASDAM are not prepared to accept. There is also a risk that some or all of the aspects of the Quickstep Shareholder approval and Court approvals required for the Scheme to proceed may be delayed.

If for any reason the Conditions to the Scheme are not satisfied or waived (where applicable) by the End Date and the Scheme is not implemented or the Scheme is delayed, the market price of Quickstep Shares may be adversely affected.

Termination rights

Quickstep and ASDAM each have the right to terminate the SID in the circumstances described in Section 9.4.5. As such, there is no certainty that the SID will not be terminated before the Scheme is implemented.

If the SID is terminated, Quickstep can provide no assurances that the Quickstep Board will be able to find a party willing to offer an equivalent or greater price for Quickstep Shares than the price to be paid under the terms of the SID and the Scheme.

A Superior Proposal for Quickstep may yet emerge

It is possible that a Superior Proposal for Quickstep, which is more attractive for Quickstep Shareholders than the Scheme, may materialise in the future. The implementation of the Scheme would mean that Quickstep Shareholders would not obtain the benefit of any such proposal.

The Quickstep Board is not currently aware of any such proposal and notes that since Quickstep and ASDAM announced the Scheme, there has been a significant period of time and ample opportunity for an alternative proposal for Quickstep which provides a different outcome for Quickstep Shareholders to emerge.

Since the SID Announcement Date, no alternative proposal has emerged and the Quickstep Directors have decided that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders at the date of this Scheme Booklet.

Target Reimbursement Fee

Under the SID, a liquidated amount (or break fee) of $412,000 may become payable by Quickstep to ASDAM (Target Reimbursement Fee) in certain circumstances. More information about the Target Reimbursement Fee is set out in Section 9.4.

Tax consequences for Scheme Shareholders

If the Scheme becomes Effective, there will be tax consequences for the Scheme Shareholders which may include tax being payable.

For further detail regarding the general Australian tax consequences of the Scheme, refer to Section 8 of this Scheme Booklet. The tax consequences may vary depending on the nature and characteristics of Scheme Shareholders and their specific circumstances. Quickstep Shareholders should seek professional taxation advice in this regard.

7.4.2 Implications for Quickstep and Quickstep Shareholders if the Scheme is not implemented

If the Scheme does not become Effective, Quickstep Shareholders will not receive the Scheme Consideration and Quickstep will continue, in the absence of a Superior Proposal, to operate as a standalone entity and remain listed on the ASX. Further, as set out in Section 9.6, Quickstep will have incurred approximately $935,000 (exclusive of GST) in transaction costs in connection with the Scheme which is expected to be payable by Quickstep irrespective of whether or not the Scheme is implemented (excluding the Target Reimbursement Fee that may be payable by ASDAM if the Scheme does not proceed).

Unless Quickstep Shareholders choose to sell their Quickstep Shares on the ASX, Quickstep Shareholders will continue to hold Quickstep Shares and be exposed to both the risks (including those set out in this Section 7) and potential future benefits in retaining exposure to Quickstep's business and assets.

The Quickstep Share price will also remain subject to market volatility and may fall in the absence of a Superior Proposal.

Further, as set out in Section 5.11, if the Scheme is not implemented, then ASDAM will be required to proceed with, and make a Bidder's Statement which contains an offer to Quickstep Shareholders which must be on terms that are the same as, or not substantially less favourable than, the Proposed Takeover Bid within 1 month of Quickstep or ASDAM announcing the Scheme will not otherwise proceed, or if orders from the Second Court Hearing approving the Scheme are not lodged with ASIC by 20 May 2025. An offer made by ASDAM under its Bidder's Statement under its Proposed Takeover Bid to Quickstep Shareholders will be on terms that are significantly less favourable than the Scheme unless ASDAM determines to improve the current consideration of $0.40 per Quickstep Share offered under the Proposed Takeover Bid to an amount in excess of the Scheme Consideration.

8. Australian tax implications of the Scheme

8.1 Introduction

The following is a general summary of the Australian income tax and GST implications for Scheme Shareholders who participate in the Scheme.

This summary is general in nature only, should be read in conjunction with the rest of this Scheme Booklet and is not intended to be an authoritative or complete analysis of the tax consequences arising from the Scheme. It is not intended to provide, and should not be relied on for tax or legal advice. Scheme Shareholders are advised to seek professional tax advice in relation to their particular circumstances.

This summary is based on the provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (Cth) (ITAA 1936) and the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (Cth) (ITAA 1997), the GST Law and the Australian state stamp duties legislation, as at the date of this Scheme Booklet. The laws are complex and subject to change periodically, as is their interpretation by the courts and the tax authorities.

The information provided below is not applicable to all Scheme Shareholders. This tax summary applies to Australian tax resident and non-resident shareholders who hold their shares on capital account for income tax purposes. This summary will not apply to Scheme Participants who:

- hold their Quickstep Shares on 'revenue account' (such as share trading entities or entities who acquired their Quickstep Shares for the purposes of resale at a profit) or as 'trading stock' or entities, the investments of which are ordinarily subject to tax on revenue account;
- are under a legal disability;
- are temporary residents of Australia for Australian taxation purposes;
- acquired their Quickstep Shares under an employee share, option or rights plan;
- may be subject to special tax rules, such as partnerships, tax exempt organisations, insurance companies, dealers in securities, or shareholders who change their tax residency while holding their Quickstep Shares;
- are subject to the taxation of financial arrangements rules in Division 230 of the ITAA 1997 in relation to gains and losses on their Quickstep Shares; or
- are non-residents of Australia who hold their Quickstep Shares in carrying on a business at or through a permanent establishment in Australia.

This summary does not take into account the tax laws of countries other than Australia. Quickstep Shareholders who are tax residents of a country other than Australia (whether or not they are also residents, or are temporary residents of Australia for tax purposes) should take into account the tax consequences of the Scheme under the laws of their country of residence, as well as under Australian law.

Neither Quickstep nor any of its officers or employees, nor its taxation or other Advisers, accepts any liability or responsibility in respect of the tax consequences associated with participation in the Scheme.

8.2 Australian tax resident Quickstep Shareholders

8.2.1 Capital gains tax (CGT) on disposal of Quickstep Shares

The disposal of Quickstep Shares will constitute a CGT event for Australian resident Quickstep Shareholders. The disposal will constitute a CGT event A1 for Australian CGT purposes for Quickstep Shareholders.

The time of the CGT event will be the Implementation Date.

Capital gains (prior to any CGT discount) and capital losses of a taxpayer in an income year are aggregated to determine whether there is a net capital gain. Any net capital gain (after reduction by the CGT discount, if applicable) is included in assessable income and is subject to income tax at the taxpayer's marginal rate. Capital losses may not be deducted against other income for income tax purposes, but may be carried forward to offset against future capital gains (subject to satisfaction of loss recoupment tests for certain taxpayers).

8.2.2 Calculation of capital gain or capital loss

Quickstep Shareholders should make a capital gain on the disposal of their Quickstep Shares to the extent that the capital proceeds from the disposal of the Quickstep Shares are more than the cost base of those Quickstep Shares at the date of disposal. Conversely, Quickstep Shareholders will make a capital loss to the extent that the capital proceeds are less than their reduced cost base of those Quickstep Shares at the date of the disposal.

8.2.3 Cost base and reduced cost base

Generally, the cost base of any Quickstep Shares will be equal to the consideration paid to acquire the Quickstep Shares. Other incidental costs incurred by a Quickstep Shareholder for their acquisition or ownership of Quickstep Shares (such as brokerage) that are otherwise non-deductible to the Quickstep Shareholder may also be included in the cost base of their Quickstep Shares.

The reduced tax cost base of the Quickstep Shares of a Quickstep Shareholder will be determined in a similar manner to the cost base, although some differences in the calculations of reduced tax cost base may exist depending on the relevant Quickstep Shareholder's circumstances. Quickstep Shareholders should consult their own independent tax advisors.

8.2.4 Capital proceeds

The capital proceeds received in respect of the disposal of each Quickstep Share should be the amount of the Scheme Consideration (i.e. $0.575 per Scheme Share).

8.2.5 CGT discount

An Australian resident Quickstep Shareholder who is an individual, the trustee of a trust (conditions apply) or a complying superannuation entity may be entitled to claim a CGT discount in calculating any capital gain if their Quickstep Shares were acquired at least 12 months before disposal under the Scheme. The CGT discount is not available for Quickstep Shareholders that are companies.

The CGT discount is applied to the capital gain after any available current year capital losses and prior year capital losses are applied.

The applicable CGT discount which would reduce a capital gain arising from the disposal of Quickstep Shares is 50% in the case of individuals and trusts, and 33⅓% in the case of Australian complying superannuation entities.

The ultimate availability of the CGT discount for beneficiaries of a trust will depend on the individual circumstances of the beneficiaries.

As the Scheme Consideration will be provided in cash only, no CGT roll-over will generally be available.

8.3 Non-resident Quickstep Shareholders

8.3.1 Capital gains tax (CGT) on disposal of Quickstep Shares

Quickstep Shareholders who are non-residents of Australia for income tax purposes are not generally subject to Australian CGT on the disposal of their Quickstep Shares. Australian CGT only applies to foreign resident Quickstep Shareholders if:

- the Quickstep Shareholder, together with their associates, owns 10% or more of the shares in Quickstep for any continuous 12-month period in the 24-month period before the Implementation Date; and
- the Quickstep Shares are an indirect Australian real property interest.

Based on the financial statements of Quickstep (reproduced at Section 5.4 of this Scheme Booklet), the Quickstep Shares should not be indirect Australian real property interests and no Australian CGT should be payable by foreign residents who dispose of their Quickstep Shares under the Scheme.

However, a non-resident individual Quickstep Shareholder who has previously been an Australian tax resident and chosen to disregard a capital gain or loss (i.e. CGT event A1) in respect of their Quickstep Shares on ceasing to be an Australian tax resident, or a Quickstep Shareholder who used their Quickstep Shares at any time in carrying on a business through a permanent establishment in Australia, may be subject to Australian CGT consequences on disposal of their Quickstep Shares.

8.3.2 Foreign resident CGT withholding

The foreign resident capital gains withholding regime may impose a 12.5% withholding obligation (calculated by reference to the Scheme Consideration) on ASDAM if ASDAM considers, or reasonably believes, that a Quickstep Shareholder is a foreign resident and Australian CGT applies to the disposal of Quickstep Shares.

On the basis that the Quickstep Shares should not be indirect Australian real property interests, the foreign resident CGT withholding regime should not operate to require ASDAM to withhold any amount from the Scheme Consideration.

8.4 GST

Quickstep Shareholders should not be liable to GST in respect of a disposal of their Quickstep Shares.

Quickstep Shareholders may be charged GST on costs (such as advisor fees relating to their participation in the Scheme) that relate to the Scheme. Quickstep Shareholders that are registered for GST may be entitled to input tax credits or reduced input tax credits for GST incurred on such costs, but should seek their own independent advice in relation to their individual circumstances.

8.5 Stamp duty

Quickstep Shareholders should not be liable for any stamp duty on the disposal of their Quickstep Shares.

9. Additional information

9.1 Introduction

This Section sets out the statutory information required by section 412(1)(a) of the Corporations Act and Part 3 of Schedule 8 to the Corporations Regulations to be included in this Scheme Booklet, to the extent not covered elsewhere in this Scheme Booklet. This Section also includes additional information that the Quickstep Directors consider material to a decision on how to vote on the Scheme Resolution.

9.2 No relevant restrictions in the Constitution of Quickstep

There are no relevant restrictions on the right to transfer Quickstep Shares in Quickstep's constitution.

9.3 Quickstep Directors' interests

9.3.1 Directors' recommendation and voting intention

Quickstep Directors unanimously recommend that Quickstep Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders. Subject to the same qualifications, each of the Quickstep Directors will vote all Quickstep Shares that they hold or control in favour of the Scheme.

Quickstep Shareholders should note when considering this recommendation the interests of the Quickstep Directors described in this Section 9.3.

Except as set out below or otherwise disclosed in this Scheme Booklet:

- (a) there are no marketable securities of Quickstep held by or on behalf of Quickstep Directors as at the date of this Scheme Booklet;
- (b) no Quickstep Director holds, or has any interest in, marketable securities in ASDAM; and
- (c) there has been no dealing by any Quickstep Director in any marketable securities of Quickstep or ASDAM in the 4 months prior to the Last Practicable Date.

9.3.2 Quickstep Shares

The relevant interests of each Quickstep Director in Quickstep securities as at the Last Practicable Date are as set out in the below table:

Director	Number of Quickstep Shares held	Percentage of Issued Quickstep Shares held ¹⁰	Scheme Consideration to be issued on the Implementation Date
Patrick Largier	583,000	0.81%	$335,225.00
Elisabeth Mannes	42,176	0.06%	$24,251.20
Kym Osley	76,739	0.11%	$44,124.92

9.3.3 Retirement benefits

Except as otherwise disclosed in this Scheme Booklet, no payment or other benefit is proposed to be made or given in connection with the Scheme to any Quickstep Director as compensation for, or in connection with, his or her retirement from office in Quickstep or in any other member of the Quickstep Group.

9.3.4 Deeds of access, indemnity and insurance

Quickstep has entered into deeds of access, indemnity and insurance with the directors and certain other officers of the Quickstep Group, on market standard terms (D&O Deeds). The D&O Deeds include terms that provide for Quickstep to indemnify each of its directors and officers against any liability incurred by such persons in their capacity as a director or officer of the company to any person other than a member of the Quickstep Group.

Quickstep also pays a premium in respect of a directors' and officers' insurance policy for the benefit of the directors and officers of the Quickstep Group. If the Scheme is implemented, Quickstep undertakes to enter into an arrangement to effect and maintain directors' and officers' run-off insurance coverage for all current and former Quickstep Directors and officers for seven years from the retirement date of each Quickstep Director or termination date in the case of officers on commercially reasonable terms.

As at the Last Practicable Date, Quickstep expects that the costs associated with entry into such run-off arrangements with respect to directors and officers will be $601,667.13 (including run off premium, GST and stamp duty), and with respect to employer practices will be $42,489.45 (including run off premium, GST and stamp duty).

9.3.5 Agreements and arrangements entered into by Quickstep Directors in connection with or conditional upon the Scheme

None of the Quickstep Directors, nor any of their associates, have entered into, or otherwise have any interest in, any agreement, arrangement or contract with any other person, including any member of ASDAM, in connection with, or conditional upon, the outcome of the Scheme.

9.3.6 Interests of Quickstep Directors in contracts with ASDAM

No Quickstep Director has any interest in any contract entered into by ASDAM.

¹⁰ Based on 71,726,241 Quickstep Shares on issue as at the Last Practicable Date.

9.4 SID summary

Quickstep and ASDAM entered into the SID on 20 December 2024. The SID sets out the obligations of Quickstep and ASDAM in connection with the implementation of the Scheme. A full copy of the SID is attached to the Quickstep ASX announcement of 20 December 2024 which is available on the ASX website (<https://www.asx.com.au/>). The following is a summary of the key terms of the SID only and is qualified in its entirety by the full text of the SID.

9.4.1 Conditions

The obligations of the parties to implement the Scheme are subject to the conditions precedent summarised below being satisfied or waived, each being a Condition (clause 3.1 of the SID):

- (a) No restraints: as at 8.00am (AET) on the Second Court Date:
 - (i) there is not in effect any temporary or final order, decision or decree issued, or other preliminary or final decision by any court of competent jurisdiction or Government Agency, nor is there in effect any other legal restraint or prohibition; and
 - (ii) no action or investigation has been announced or commenced by any Government Agency, which restrains, prohibits, or otherwise materially adversely impacts upon (or could be reasonably expected to restrain, prohibit or otherwise materially adversely impact upon) completion of the Scheme;

- (b) Quickstep Shareholder approval: the Scheme is approved by Quickstep Shareholders at the Scheme Meeting by the Requisite Majorities;
- (c) Independent Expert: the Independent Expert issues an Independent Expert's Report which concludes that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders before the time when the Scheme Booklet is registered with ASIC and the Independent Expert does not publicly withdraw, qualify or change that opinion at any time prior to 8.00am (AET) on the Second Court Date;
- (d) Court approval: the Scheme is approved by the Court in accordance with section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act;
- (e) No Quickstep Prescribed Occurrence: no Quickstep Prescribed Occurrence occurs between (and including) the date of the SID and 8.00am on the Second Court Date;
- (f) No Quickstep Regulated Event: no Quickstep Regulated Event occurs between (and including) the date of the SID and 8.00am (AET) on the Second Court Date;
- (g) No Material Adverse Change: no Material Adverse Change occurs between the date of the SID and 8.00am (AET) on the Second Court Date;
- (h) Quickstep Warranties: the Quickstep Warranties being true and correct in all material respects on the date of the SID and 8.00am (AET) on the Second Court Date; and

- (i) ASDAM Warranties: the ASDAM Warranties being true and correct in all material respects on the date of the SID and 8.00am (AET) on the Second Court Date.

As far as Quickstep is aware, immediately before the date of this Scheme Booklet no circumstances have occurred which have caused or will cause any of the Conditions not to be satisfied or to become incapable of satisfaction. These matters will continue to be assessed until the latest time each Condition is to be satisfied, which for many of the Conditions is 8.00am (AET) on the Second Court Date.

9.4.2 Conduct of business

Subject to certain exceptions, from the date of the SID until the Implementation Date, the Quickstep Group is required to comply with certain conduct of business requirements, which are summarised below but set out in full in clauses 7.1, 7.2 and 7.3 of the SID. Among other things Quickstep must, and must procure that each member of the Quickstep Group does, the following:

- (a) conduct its business in the ordinary course and usual course of business and consistent with past practice, in the same manner as conducted in the 12 months prior to the date of the SID;
- (b) conduct its businesses and operations substantially in accordance with all applicable authorisations, laws and regulations (including the Listing Rules);
- (c) use best endeavours to preserve their relationships with customers, suppliers, landlords, licensors, licensees and others having material business dealings with them, and to retain the services of all key employees;
- (d) use best endeavours to ensure that all assets are maintained in the normal course consistent with past practice;
- (e) keep ASDAM reasonably informed of any material developments concerning the Quickstep Group;
- (f) use best endeavours to comply in all material respects with material contracts to which any member of the Quickstep Group is a party, and with laws, authorisations and licenses applicable to each member of the Quickstep Group;
- (g) maintain (and where necessary, use commercially reasonable efforts to renew) each of its material authorisations, accreditations and licenses applicable to each member of the Quickstep Group and promptly notify ASDAM if any renewal proposal is not accepted by the relevant Government Agency; and
- (h) maintain (and where necessary, use commercially reasonable efforts to renew on substantially the same or similar terms to the extent reasonably available) existing policies of insurance as disclosed in the due diligence materials.

In addition, there are a number of negative covenants which apply to each member of the Quickstep Group which are set out in full in clause 7.1 of the SID. These negative covenants prevent members of the Quickstep Group from taking certain actions including entering into any new material line of business or other material activity or taking any action that would be likely to result in the termination of any material authorisation without ASDAM's prior written consent (unless another exception applies).

9.4.3 Exclusivity

Clause 11 of the SID contains certain exclusivity arrangements in favour of ASDAM. These arrangements are in line with market practice and are summarised below:

(a) No-shop

During the Exclusivity Period, the Quickstep Group must not, and must ensure that its representatives, do not, directly or indirectly solicit, invite, initiate or encourage any Competing Proposal, or solicit, invite, initial or encourage enquiries, discussions, negotiations or proposals in relation to, or which may reasonably be expected to lead to, a Competing Proposal, or communicate to any person any intention to do any of these things.

(b) No-talk

Subject to the 'fiduciary out' (described below), during the Exclusivity Period, the Quickstep Group must not, and must ensure that its representatives, do not directly or indirectly participate in, or continue any negotiations or discussions with respect to any discussions which could reasonably be expected to lead to encourage or lead to the making of an actual or proposed Competing Proposal, negotiate or enter into any agreement or arrangement or understanding regarding an actual, proposed or potential Competing Proposal, or disclose non-public information about the Quickstep Group to a third party with a view to encouraging or obtaining a Competing Proposal or communicate to any person any intention to do any of these things.

(c) No-due diligence

During the Exclusivity Period, Quickstep must not directly or indirectly:

- (i) solicit, initiate, facilitate (subject to the 'fiduciary out'), encourage or invite any person (other than ASDAM, its affiliates or its representatives) to undertake due diligence investigations in respect of the Quickstep Group, in connection with such person formulating, developing or finalising, or assisting in the formulation, development or finalisation of, a Competing Proposal; or
- (ii) make available to any person (other than ASDAM, its affiliates or its representatives) or permit any such person to receive, other than in the ordinary course of business or as required by law or the rules of any prescribed financial market, any non-public information relating to the Quickstep Group, with a view to obtaining or which may reasonably be expected to lead to a Competing Proposal.

(d) Fiduciary out

The 'fiduciary out' is an exception that applies where complying with a restriction could cause the Quickstep Directors to breach their fiduciary duties or statutory obligations.

The 'no-talk' and 'no-due diligence' restrictions do not apply to the extent they restrict the Quickstep Board from taking or refusing to take any action with respect to a Competing Proposal (in relation to where there has been no contravention of the exclusivity regime set out in clause 11 of the SID (and summarised above)) provided that:

- (i) the Competing Proposal, approach, inquiry or proposal or request for information (as the case may be) is bona fide and is made by or on behalf of a person that the Quickstep Board considers is of sufficient commercial standing to give effect to the Competing Proposal; and
- (ii) the Quickstep Board has determined in good faith after consultation with Quickstep's financial and legal adviser that the Competing Proposal is or would reasonably be expected to lead to a Superior Proposal, or has received written advice from Quickstep's external legal advisor that failing to take the action would be reasonably likely to constitute a breach of the fiduciary or statutory duties of the Quickstep Board.

(e) Notification of approaches

During the Exclusivity Period, Quickstep must as soon as possible, but in any event within 48 hours of becoming aware of the relevant matter, notify ASDAM in writing if it is approached by any person in relation to an actual or potential Competing Proposal or if a request is made by a third party for any information in relation to the Quickstep Group that the Quickstep Board has reasonable grounds to suspect may be in connection with such third party formulating or finalising a Competing Proposal.

This notification must include the identity of the relevant person making or proposing the relevant actual, proposed or potential Competing Proposal, together with all key terms and conditions (including price, conditions precedent, timetable, source and status of funding and any break fee) of the actual, proposed or potential Competing Proposal.

(f) Matching right

If, during the Exclusivity Period, the Quickstep Board determines that a Competing Proposal is a Superior Proposal, ASDAM has the right, but not the obligation, to make a matching or superior proposal (ASDAM Counterproposal) within 3 Business Days (Matching Period). If before expiry of the Matching Period, ASDAM makes a ASDAM Counterproposal, Quickstep must procure that the Quickstep Board promptly considers that ASDAM Counterproposal in good faith.

If the Quickstep Board determines that the ASDAM Counterproposal would provide an outcome that is no less favourable to or more favourable to Quickstep Shareholders as a whole than the relevant Competing Proposal (having regard to matters including, but not limited to, consideration, conditionality, funding, certainty and timing), then Quickstep and ASDAM must use their best endeavours to agree to any amendments to the SID, the Scheme and the Deed Poll that are reasonably necessary to reflect the ASDAM Counterproposal and to implement the ASDAM Counterproposal as soon as reasonably practicable.

If ASDAM does not make an ASDAM Counterproposal before expiry of the Matching Period, or if the Quickstep Board does not consider that an ASDAM Counterproposal made within the Matching Period would provide an equivalent or superior outcome for Quickstep Shareholders as a whole compared with the Competing Proposal, subject to the terms of the SID, Quickstep may enter into a legally binding agreement to undertake or give effect to the Competing Proposal.

Each successive material variation or amendment of any Competing Proposal will constitute a new Competing Proposal and the Matching Right will apply again.

9.4.4 Target Reimbursement Fee

Quickstep must pay ASDAM the Target Reimbursement Fee (being a 'break fee' equal to approximately 1% of the implied equity value of Quickstep under the Scheme) in the circumstances described below. The Quickstep Directors consider that the Target Reimbursement Fee represents a genuine and reasonable pre-estimate of the costs that would be incurred by ASDAM in pursuing the Scheme, acknowledging that such costs are of a nature such that they cannot all be accurately ascertained, and that it is appropriate for Quickstep to agree to pay the Target Reimbursement Fee in the circumstances set out below, which are customary 'break fee' triggers for a transaction in the nature of the Scheme.

The Target Reimbursement Fee is payable if:

- (a) during the Exclusivity Period, any Quickstep Director changes, qualifies or withdraws their recommendation that Quickstep Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme and ASDAM has terminated the SID unless:
 - (i) the Independent Expert concludes in the Independent Expert's Report (or any update of, revision or amendment or addendum to, that report) that the Scheme is not in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders (except where that conclusion is due wholly or partly to the existence, announcement or publication of a Competing Proposal);
 - (ii) Quickstep is entitled to terminate the SID due to ASDAM's material and unremedied breach of the SID or an ASDAM Warranty and issues a valid termination notice on this basis; or
 - (iii) the failure to recommend, or the change to or withdrawal of a recommendation to vote in favour of the Scheme, is a result of a requirement of a court or Government Agency;
- (b) a Competing Proposal is announced prior to the date of the Scheme Meeting (whether or not such proposal is stated to be subject to any pre-conditions) and, within 12 months of the date of such announcement, a third party completes the Competing Proposal or acquires a Relevant Interest in more than 50% of the Quickstep Shares, or acquires substantially all of the assets of Quickstep; or
- (c) ASDAM has terminated the SID due to a material and unremedied breach of the SID or a Quickstep Warranty by Quickstep, or a Competing Proposal is announced or made and is publicly recommended, supported or endorsed by a majority of the Quickstep Board and the Scheme does not complete.

9.4.5 Termination

Either Quickstep or ASDAM may terminate the SID if:

- (a) there is an act, a failure to act, an event or an occurrence that would, does, or will prevent any of the Conditions being satisfied by the End Date;
- (b) the Effective Date for the Scheme has not occurred, or will not occur on or before the End Date; and

Quickstep and ASDAM have been unable to agree as to whether the Scheme may proceed by way of alternative means or to extending the time for satisfaction of the relevant Condition or the End Date or adjourning the application to the Court for approving the Scheme; or

- (c) the Court or another Government Agency has taken any action permanently restraining or otherwise prohibiting or preventing the Scheme.

ASDAM may terminate the SID if:

- (a) Quickstep is in material and unremedied breach of the SID or a Quickstep Warranty;
- (b) withdraws or adversely revises their recommendation that Quickstep Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme or their Voting Intention or makes any public statement that is inconsistent with the recommendation or Voting Intention, or recommends, endorses or supports any Competing Proposal (other than as permitted under the SID); or
- (c) a Competing Proposal is announced or made and is publicly recommended, supported or endorsed by a majority of the Quickstep Board.

Quickstep may terminate the SID if:

- (a) a majority of the Quickstep Board changes, withdraws or modifies their recommendation that Quickstep Shareholders vote in favour of the Scheme as permitted under the SID and Quickstep has paid the Target Reimbursement Fee (if required to do so under the terms of the SID); or
- (b) ASDAM is in material and unremedied breach of the SID or an ASDAM Warranty.

9.5 Deed Poll

On 3 March 2025, ASDAM executed the Deed Poll in favour of Scheme Shareholders, under which, subject to the Scheme becoming Effective, ASDAM undertakes in favour of each Scheme Shareholder to pay the Scheme Consideration for each Scheme Share, being $0.575 for every one Scheme Share held by a Scheme Shareholder. The Deed Poll may be relied upon by any Scheme Shareholder despite the fact that they are not a party to it and each Scheme Shareholder appoints Quickstep as its agent to enforce their rights under the Deed Poll against these members of ASDAM.

The Deed Poll is at Annexure 4 to this Scheme Booklet.

9.6 Disclosure of fees and other benefits

Each of the persons named in this Scheme Booklet as performing a function in a professional, advisory or other capacity in connection with the preparation or distribution of this Scheme Booklet will be entitled to receive professional fees in accordance with their normal basis of charging. Quickstep has certain obligations that are contingent upon successful implementation of the Scheme.

If the Scheme is implemented, Quickstep expects to pay an aggregate amount of approximately $2,435,000 (exclusive of GST) in transaction costs in connection with the Scheme. This includes advisory fees, the Independent Expert fees, Share Registry fees, Scheme Booklet design, printing and distribution costs and expenses associated with convening and holding the Scheme Meeting. Of this amount, approximately $935,000 (exclusive of GST) is expected to be payable by Quickstep irrespective of whether or not the Scheme is implemented (excluding the Target Reimbursement Fee that may be payable by ASDAM if the Scheme does not proceed). These amounts do not include the transaction costs that may be incurred by ASDAM in relation to the Scheme.

Online voting at the Scheme Meeting will be open between the start of the meeting and the closing of voting, as announced by the Chair during the meeting.

Voting by Proxy

A Quickstep Shareholder entitled to attend and vote at the Scheme Meeting is entitled to appoint not more than two proxies. A proxy need not be a Quickstep Shareholder and may be an individual or a body corporate. Each proxy will have the right to vote on the Scheme Resolution and also to speak and ask questions at the Scheme Meeting. The appointment may specify the proportion or number of votes the proxy may exercise.

If you are entitled to cast two or more votes, you may appoint two proxies and may specify the proportion or the number of votes each proxy may exercise. If the appointment does not specify the proportion or number of Quickstep Shareholder votes each proxy may exercise, each proxy may exercise half of the votes.

If a proxy is not directed on how to vote on any item of business, the proxy may vote or abstain from voting, as the proxy thinks fit. If a proxy is instructed to abstain from voting on an item of business, that person is directed not to vote on the shareholder’s behalf on the poll, and the Quickstep Shares the subject of the proxy appointment will not be counted in determining the required majority.

Quickstep Shareholders who appoint a proxy but do not nominate the identity of their proxy will be taken to have appointed the Chair of the Scheme Meeting as their proxy to vote on their behalf. If a proxy form is lodged and the proxy form specifies the way the proxy is to vote on the Scheme Resolution, but the nominated proxy is either not recorded as attending the Scheme Meeting or does not vote on the Scheme Resolution, the Chair of the Scheme Meeting will act in place of the nominated proxy and vote in accordance with the directions.

Proxy appointments in favour of (or which default to) the Chair of the Scheme Meeting and which do not contain a direction as to how to vote will be voted in favour of the Scheme Resolution, in the absence of a Superior Proposal and subject to the Independent Expert continuing to conclude that the Scheme is in the best interests of Quickstep Shareholders. An ASX announcement will be released if the Chair changes their voting intention.

If you appoint a proxy, you may still attend the Scheme Meeting. Please note that if you appoint a proxy and attend the Scheme Meeting, your proxy’s authority to vote will not be suspended while you are present. However, you may still vote on the Scheme Resolution at the Scheme Meeting. If you do so and your proxy also votes, your vote will be counted and your proxy's will not.

You must deliver the signed and completed proxy form in one of the following ways:

Online	At www.investorvote.com.au and follow the prompts
By mobile device	If you have a smart phone, you can lodge your proxy appointment via www.investorvote.com.au or by scanning the QR code on the Proxy Form. To scan the QR code, you will need a QR code READER application which can be downloaded for free on your mobile device
By post	Either via the reply-paid envelope included with your proxy or by sending the completed proxy form to Computershare Investor Services Pty Limited GPO Box 242 Melbourne Victoria 3001
By fax	1800 783 447 within Australia; or +61 3 9473 2555 outside Australia.

The signed Proxy Form (and an original or certified copy of any power of attorney under which it has been signed, unless already provided) must be received by Quickstep or the Share Registry by 1.30pm (AET) on Saturday, 12 April 2025 (being 48 hours before the Scheme Meeting), to be effective. Proxy Forms received later than this time will be invalid.

For further information on proxy voting, please refer to the Proxy Form.

Voting by attorney

Quickstep Shareholders may appoint an attorney to attend and vote at the Scheme Meeting on their behalf.

Quickstep Shareholders who wish to vote by attorney at the Scheme Meeting should, if they have not already presented an appropriate power of attorney to Quickstep, deliver to the Share Registry or Quickstep an original or certified copy of the power of attorney by no later than 1:30pm (AET) on Saturday, 12 April 2025 (being 48 hours before the commencement of the Scheme Meeting).

The appointment of a power of attorney does not preclude you from virtually attending the Scheme Meeting and voting at the meeting.

A power of attorney may be submitted in the same manner as a completed Proxy Form as described above.

Voting by Corporate Representative

A Quickstep Shareholder or proxy which is a body corporate may appoint an individual to act as its representative to vote at the Scheme Meeting (Corporate Representative). The appointment must comply with section 250D of the Corporations Act. If a Corporate Representative of a Quickstep Shareholder or proxy which is a body corporate is to attend the Scheme Meeting, the appropriate "Appointment of Corporate Representative" form will need to be produced prior to admission, along with an original or certified copy of any power of attorney under which it is signed. A form may be obtained from the Share Registry, or online at <https://www-au.computershare.com/Investor/#help/PrintableForms> and provided to the Share Registry in the manner set out on the form.

Unless otherwise specified in the appointment, a Corporate Representative acting in accordance with their authority, until it is revoked by the body corporate Quickstep Shareholder or proxy, is entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of that body corporate as that body corporate could exercise at a meeting, or in voting on a resolution in its capacity as Quickstep Shareholder or proxy. This evidence may be submitted in the same manner as a completed Proxy Form as described above.

Joint holders

In the case of Quickstep Shares held by joint holders, only one of the joint holders is entitled to vote. If more than one Quickstep Shareholder votes in respect of jointly held Quickstep Shares, the vote of the holder named first in the Quickstep Share Register, whether directly or by proxy, attorney or corporate representative, will be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint holders. If multiple Proxy Forms are received for a joint holding of Quickstep Shares, the latter most Proxy Form received will be accepted to the exclusion of the foregoing Proxy Forms.

Requisite Majorities

In order for the Scheme to become effective, the Scheme Resolution must be passed at the Scheme Meeting by:

- unless the Court orders otherwise, a majority of the number (more than 50%) of Quickstep Shareholders present and voting (whether directly or by proxy, attorney or, in the case of corporate shareholders, a corporate representative) at the Scheme Meeting; and
- at least 75% of the total number of votes cast on the resolution by Quickstep Shareholders present and voting (whether directly or by proxy, attorney or, in the case of corporate shareholders, a corporate representative) at the Scheme Meeting, (the Requisite Majorities).

The Court has the discretion under section 411(4)(a)(ii)(A) of the Corporations Act to approve the Scheme if it is approved by at least 75% of the votes cast on the resolution, but not by a majority in number of Quickstep Shareholders (other than Quickstep Shareholders who are ineligible to vote) present and voting at the Scheme Meeting.

Court approval

In accordance with section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act, the Scheme (with or without alteration or conditions) is subject to approval of the Court. If the Scheme Resolution is approved by the Requisite Majorities, and the relevant conditions precedent to the Scheme (other than approval by the Court) are satisfied, or waived, by the time required under the Scheme, Quickstep intends to apply to the Court for the necessary orders to give effect to the Scheme.

How to ask questions?

Quickstep Shareholders who would like to ask questions at the Scheme Meeting are encouraged to do so in writing before the Scheme Meeting by emailing their questions to info@quickstep.com.au prior to 7.00pm (AET) on 12 April 2025. Please use the email subject "Scheme Meeting Question". As many of the emailed questions as possible will be addressed during the Scheme Meeting.

Alternatively, Quickstep Shareholders and their authorised proxies, attorneys and corporate representatives will have the opportunity to submit questions or comments via the online platform to the Quickstep Board during the Scheme Meeting. In the interests of all present, please confine your questions to matters before the Scheme Meeting that are relevant to Quickstep Shareholders as a whole.

If it becomes necessary or appropriate to make alternative arrangements for the holding or conduct of the Scheme Meeting, Quickstep will make further information available through the ASX website (ASX: QHL) and on its website at <https://www.quickstep.com.au/announcement/>. Dear Directors

Re: Independent expert's report

Introduction

Following announcement of an initial offer on 7 November 2024, on 20 December 2024, QHL announced it had entered into a scheme implementation deed (SID) with ASDAM Operation Pty Limited (ASDAM). Under the SID, ASDAM has agreed to acquire all of the issued shares in QHL for cash consideration of $0.575 per share (the Proposed Consideration) (the Proposed Scheme).

An overview of the Proposed Scheme is provided in Section 1 of our detailed report, and full details are included in the Scheme Booklet issued by QHL.

Purpose of the report

The Directors of QHL have requested Deloitte Corporate Finance Pty Limited (Deloitte Corporate Finance) to provide an independent expert's report advising whether, in our opinion, the Proposed Scheme is in the best interests of the shareholders of QHL.

This report is to be included in the Scheme Booklet to be sent to QHL shareholders and has been prepared for the exclusive purpose of assisting QHL shareholders in their consideration of the Proposed Scheme. We are not responsible to you, or anyone else, whether for our negligence or otherwise, if this report is used by any other person for any other purpose.

Basis of evaluation

In preparing this report, we have had regard to the ASIC Regulatory Guide 111 in relation to the content of the expert's report and ASIC Regulatory Guide 112 in respect of the independence of the expert.

To assess whether the Proposed Scheme is in the best interests of QHL shareholders, we have adopted the test of whether the Proposed Scheme is either fair and reasonable, not fair but reasonable, or neither fair nor reasonable, as set out in ASIC Regulatory Guide 111.

Further information on the basis of the evaluation is set out in Section 2.

Summary and conclusion

In our opinion, the Proposed Scheme is fair and reasonable to, and therefore in the best interests of, QHL shareholders. In arriving at this opinion, we have had regard to the following:

The Proposed Scheme is fair

According to ASIC Regulatory Guide 111, in order to assess whether the Proposed Scheme is fair, the independent expert is required to compare the market value of a QHL share on a control basis with the consideration being offered. The Proposed Scheme is fair if the value of the consideration is equal to or greater than the value of a QHL share. Set out in the table below is that comparison.

Table 1: Comparison of our valuation of a QHL share to the Proposed Consideration

AUD	Section	Low	High
Estimated market value of one QHL share	4.1	0.44	0.59
Proposed Consideration	1.1	0.575	0.575

Source: Deloitte Corporate Finance analysis

The consideration offered is within the range of our estimate of the market value of a QHL share. Accordingly, it is our opinion that the Proposed Scheme is fair.

Valuation of a QHL share

Our estimate of the market value of a QHL share is set out in the table below.

Table 2: Valuation of a QHL share

AUDm (unless otherwise stated)	Section	Low	High
Enterprise value (selected)		46.8	51.0
Less: Other liabilities	4.3	(7.2)	(0.2)
Less: Net debt	4.4	(8.2)	(8.2)
Equity value (control basis)		31.3	42.7
Number of shares on issue	4.54.5	71.7	71.7
Equity value per share ($)		0.44	0.59

Source: Deloitte Corporate Finance analysis

We have estimated the enterprise value of QHL by applying the market multiples approach.

We have selected EBITDA as an appropriate measure of earnings because multiples based on EBITDA are less sensitive to different financing structures, depreciation and amortisation accounting policies and effective tax rates than multiples based on EBIT or NPAT.

Notwithstanding that Quickstep is required to adopt prevailing accounting standards under IFRS (including AASB 16)¹, we selected EBITDA on a pre-AASB 16 basis (ie. after deducting rent expense) given Quickstep leases a number of properties and that the expenses associated with these leases are material. EBITDA on a pre-AASB 16 basis is based on statutory EBITDA less rent expense which is a real cost to the business. Excluding this rent expense (by adopting statutory EBITDA) has a disproportionate impact on Quickstep's EBITDA relative to the comparable businesses which could lead to an inaccurate valuation of Quickstep's shares. Consequently, adopting a pre-AASB 16 EBITDA as the basis of valuation allows for a better comparison with the earnings multiples of other comparable companies.

Under the market multiples approach, we have assessed an appropriate EBITDA to be $8.5m (on a pre-AASB16 basis), based on our analysis of a normalised EBITDA for QHL's continuing businesses. This EBITDA takes account of the full benefit of recent cost restructures that have been undertaken by QHL management, recent renegotiations of contracts with key customers, and certain costs we consider that a market participant would be able to avoid by taking the business private.

The selected earnings multiple of 5.5x to 6.0x is based on the earnings multiples of listed Australian companies that operate within the advanced manufacturing industry producing high-quality materials and engineering solutions, global advanced composite manufacturers that utilise similar technologies to produce lightweight, high-strength materials tailored for industries such as aerospace, automotive and defence, as well as transactions where the target company primarily manufactured composite materials and components.

We have cross-checked our assessment of market value above using the discounted cash flow approach, which is widely adopted in valuing operating businesses. The discounted cash flow cross check requires the determination of an appropriate discount rate and the projection of future cash flows. We selected a nominal after tax discount rate in the range of 11.5% to 12.5% to discount the estimated future cash flows to their present value. In the absence of publicly available forecasts prepared by management, we have utilised high-level projections developed by management. For this reason, we consider this approach high level in nature and only suitable as a cross-check of our primary valuation approach, which is the market multiples approach referred to above.

Whilst QHL's revenues are underpinned by a few key contracts (which by definition have finite lives), it has a track record of renewing such contracts particularly given the cost for customers to change suppliers and the long lifecycle of the end products to which these contracts relate.

The enterprise value range of between $46.8m and $51.0m reflects the benefits of the restructuring that has been undertaken to refocus the group on the more profitable aspects of its operations (and equally to improve the profitability of those operations). The top end of the valuation range could be viewed as reflecting the value of the platform and optionality it delivers for growth in other adjacencies (especially noting that the core activities could be viewed as having a limited life). Having said this, there are challenges to achieving such growth ambitions as is evident from QHL's recent attempts to develop capabilities in Services and Drones.

We have added to this enterprise value the estimated value of other assets, liabilities and net debt to arrive at the equity value of QHL. These include investments, tax losses that could be available for future utilisation, and liabilities associated with customer prepayments for orders.

Our valuation takes account of market participant benefits including listed company cost savings and cost synergies which QHL shareholders will not benefit from if the Proposed Scheme is unsuccessful.

Additional details of our valuation of QHL are set out in Section 4.

The Proposed Scheme is reasonable

In accordance with ASIC Regulatory Guide 111, an offer is reasonable if it is fair. On this basis, in our opinion, the Proposed Scheme is reasonable.

We also highlight the following factors that QHL shareholders may wish to consider in their assessment of the Proposed Scheme.

Shareholders are receiving a premium to the share price of QHL prior to the announcement of the Proposed Scheme

The Proposed Consideration represents a substantial premium over the share price of QHL prior to the announcement of the Proposed Scheme on 20 December 2024 and even higher premiums based on undisturbed share prices being prices prior to the first offer from ASDAM on 7 November 2024. Specifically, the offer price implies:

- 195% premium over the closing share price of QHL (6 November 2024), being immediately prior to the announcement of the first offer from ASDAM
- 123% premium over the 1 month volume weighted average price (VWAP) to 6 November 2024
- 109% premium over the 3 month VWAP to 6 November 2024.

We also highlight that QHL shares have not traded above $0.575 (being the Proposed Consideration) since January 2023 and have underperformed the broader Australian share market in recent periods.

There is certainty in the cash consideration

The Proposed Scheme represents an opportunity for all QHL shareholders to realise their investment at $0.575 per share in cash.

If the Proposed Scheme is unsuccessful, QHL shareholders will continue to be exposed to the risks and rewards associated with a listed investment on the ASX. This includes risks associated with QHL's exposure to a limited number of large customers, the finite lifespan of its existing contracts, the challenge in realising replacement sources of revenue to mitigate this contract risk and the impact of recent change in Government in the US which is resulting in a change in US Government policy on imports (to the US) and focus on Government department expenditure. However, there are opportunities for QHL to expand into adjacent markets such as Guided Weapons and Explosive Ordnance (GWEO) which is supported by Australian Federal Government funding, as well as leveraging its engineering expertise to expand into other defence and autonomous vehicle markets.

The FY24 financial statements and the associated auditors report note that there is material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt about the company's ability to continue as a going concern and therefore the company may be unable to realise its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. Whilst major restructuring initiatives have been undertaken by the company, the company does still carry substantial levels of debt. In the absence of the Proposed Scheme, QHL shareholders could continue to be exposed to such risks.

The likelihood of an alternative superior offer emerging is low

QHL, together with its advisers, has also sought to gauge interest in the business from a range of domestic and international strategic parties and financial sponsors. During the course of 2024, a process was undertaken to test interest in the company with a range of domestic and international strategic parties and financial sponsors, including ASDAM. A number of parties were provided access to select non-exclusive due diligence materials, which included presentations on the business by QHL management. Since the announcement of the Proposed Scheme, no competing proposal has been received and management consider the likelihood of this occurring to be low.

Based on this, we consider the likelihood of an alternative and superior proposal to be low.

QHL's share price may decline if the Proposed Scheme is not implemented and no superior proposal emerges

Immediately after the announcement of the initial offer by ASDAM on 7 November 2024, and the Proposed Scheme on 20 December 2024, QHL's shares traded within 3.5% of the offer price. This suggests to us that there is a high expectation that the Proposed Scheme will proceed.

In the months leading up to the announcement of the initial offer from ASDAM on 7 November 2024, QHL's share price was impacted by various events including the restructure, pricing renegotiations, earnings revisions, auditor concerns on the ability of the business to continue to operate as a going concern, and senior management departures. Whilst the restructure placed the business on a more stable financial footing, it had yet to translate into any notable increase in the share price prior to ASDAM's first offer.

We also highlight that our valuation of QHL, which has been undertaken on a control basis, takes account of certain benefits that QHL would not be able to realise on a standalone, ASX listed basis.

Noting the above factors, in the event the Proposed Scheme is unsuccessful and in the absence of an alternative offer QHL's share price may decline.

Substantial shareholders have not indicated whether they intend to vote in favour of or against Proposed Scheme

At the time of this report, a number of substantial shareholders who together own in excess of 25% of the shares in QHL and have not yet indicated whether they will vote in favour of or against the Proposed Scheme.

Consequently, there is risk that the Proposed Scheme may not be approved. If this is the case, QHL shareholders will not be able to realise the benefit of the Proposed Consideration and will continue to remain as shareholders of QHL.

ASDAM may be able to realise additional benefits from the acquisition of QHL

ASDAM, with its existing business operations in advanced manufacturing, and ownership of Marand, a key customer of QHL, is likely to be able to realise synergies from a combination of its business activities with QHL. Whilst our valuation has taken account of certain synergies available to a buyer of QHL, it is possible that ASDAM is able to extract additional synergies that are unique to it and over and above those factored into our valuation of QHL.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Proposed Scheme is fair and reasonable, and therefore in the best interests of, QHL shareholders in the absence of a superior proposal.

An individual shareholder's decision in relation to the Proposed Scheme may be influenced by their particular circumstances. If in doubt the shareholder should consult an independent adviser, who should have regard to their individual circumstances.

This opinion should be read in conjunction with our detailed report which sets out our scope and findings.

Yours faithfully

1 Overview of the Proposed Scheme

1.1 The Proposed Scheme

On 7 November 2024, ASDAM announced its intention to make an off-market takeover bid for Quickstep at a cash price of $0.40 per share. This announcement also referred to ASDAM having previously submitted an offer to the board of Quickstep to acquire 100% of the company by way of a scheme of arrangement at a cash price of $0.43 per share.

Whilst Quickstep acknowledged the announcement by ASDAM on 7 November 2024, on 8 November 2024, the company made an announcement that the preliminary view of the Board of Quickstep was that the offer did not adequately reflect the value for the Company and that the Board remained open to continuing discussions with ASDAM in respect of a control transaction.

On 20 December 2024, QHL announced it had entered into the SID with ASDAM.

Under the SID, ASDAM has agreed to acquire all of the issued shares in QHL for a cash consideration of $0.575 per share.

If the Proposed Scheme becomes effective, QHL shareholders will receive cash consideration of $0.575 for each share they hold in the Company on or around the Implementation Date which is currently expected to be 5 May 2025.

The Proposed Scheme must be implemented by 30 June 2025 unless QHL and ASDAM agree to an extension.

The Proposed Scheme was a consequence of a process that was carried out in 2024 to test interest in the company with a range of domestic and international strategic parties and financial sponsors, including ASDAM. A number of parties were provided access to select non-exclusive due diligence materials, which included presentations on the business by QHL management. ASDAM announced an initial takeover for QHL at $0.40 per share on 7 November 2024 which was followed by an improved offer of $0.575 per share on 20 December 2024 and formalised under the SID.

Further details on the background to the Proposed Scheme, the process of soliciting alternative proposals undertaken by the Board and their advisers, and interest received in respect of a control transaction involving QHL is set out in Section 4.1 of the Scheme Booklet.

1.2 Background to ASDAM

ASDAM is a leading sovereign defence, advanced manufacturing and sustainment company. It has capabilities across design, engineering, manufacturing, assembly and sustainment. ASDAM includes Marand, TAE Aerospace, Rosebank Engineering and Levett Engineering.

These businesses service a number of defence and non-defence programs and is Australia's largest supplier to the F-35 Joint Strike Fighter Program. ASDAM operates from 20 locations across Australia and the United States (US) and has approximately 1,000 employees. Customers include Lockheed Martin, BAE Systems, Honeywell, Pratt & Whitney and BHP. Marand is a key customer of QHL.

ASDAM is majority owned by entities managed and advised by CPE Capital Pty Limited (CPE Capital), an Australian private equity fund manager.

Further details on ASDAM and CPE Capital are included in Section 6 of the Scheme Booklet.

1.3 Key conditions of the Proposed Scheme

The Proposed Scheme is subject to various requirements or conditions including:

- shareholder approval in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), being passed by:
 - a majority in number of the members, or members in that class, present and voting either in person or by proxy
 - 75% of the votes cast on the resolution.
- court approval
- customary conditions associated with no material adverse changes or prescribed occurrences.

QHL is liable for a fee of approximately $0.4m, payable under certain prescribed conditions in the event that the Proposed Scheme does not proceed. The fee conditions are set out in Section 9.4.4 of the Scheme Booklet.

2 Basis of evaluation

2.1 Guidance

In undertaking the work associated with this report, we have had regard to ASIC Regulatory Guide 111 in relation to the content of expert's report. ASIC has also issued Regulatory Guide 112 in respect of the independence of experts, but this provides very little guidance in respect of evaluating transactions.

Schemes of arrangement can include many different types of transactions, including being used as an alternative to a Chapter 6 takeover bid. The basis of evaluation selected by the expert must be appropriate for the nature of each specific transaction.

Section 640 of the Corporations Act 2001 requires an independent expert's report in connection with a takeover offer to state whether, in the expert's opinion, the takeover offer is fair and reasonable. Where the scheme of arrangement has the same effect as a takeover, the form of analysis used by the expert should be substantially the same as for a takeover bid, however, the opinion reached should be whether the proposed scheme is 'in the best interests of the members of the company'. Accordingly, if an expert were to conclude that a proposal was 'reasonable' if it was in the form of a takeover bid, they will also be able to conclude that the proposed scheme is in the best interests of the members of the company.

ASIC Regulatory Guide 111

This regulatory guide provides guidance in relation to the content of independent expert's reports prepared for a range of transactions.

ASIC Regulatory Guide 111 refers to a 'control transaction' as being the acquisition (or increase) of a controlling stake in a company that could be achieved, for example, by way of a takeover offer, scheme of arrangement, approval of an issue of shares using item 7 of s611, a selective capital reduction or selective buy back under Chapter 2J.

In respect of control transactions, under ASIC Regulatory Guide 111 an offer is:

- fair, when the value of the consideration is equal to or greater than the value of the shares subject to the proposed scheme. The comparison must be made assuming 100% ownership of the target company
- reasonable, if it is fair, or, despite not being fair, after considering other significant factors, shareholders should accept the offer under the proposed scheme, in the absence of any higher bids before the close of the offer.

To assess whether the Proposed Scheme is in the best interests of QHL shareholders, we have adopted the tests of whether the Proposed Scheme is either fair and reasonable, not fair but reasonable, or neither fair nor reasonable, as set out in ASIC Regulatory Guide 111.

2.2 Approach to evaluation of fairness

ASIC Regulatory Guide 111 defines an offer as being fair if the value of the offer price is equal to or greater than the value of the securities subject to the offer. The comparison must be made assuming 100% ownership of the target company.

Accordingly, we have assessed whether the Proposed Scheme is fair by comparing the consideration offered with the value of a share in QHL on a control basis.

QHL shares have been valued at market value, which we have defined as the amount at which the shares would be expected to change hands between a knowledgeable and willing but not anxious buyer and a knowledgeable and willing but not anxious seller, neither of whom is under any compulsion to buy or sell.

Special purchasers may be willing to pay higher prices to reduce or eliminate competition, to ensure a source of material supply or sales, or to achieve cost savings or other synergies arising on business combinations, which could only be enjoyed by the special purchaser. Our valuation of a QHL share has not been premised on the existence of a special purchaser.

We have assessed whether the Proposed Scheme is fair by comparing the value of a QHL share to the value of the consideration to be received from ASDAM. We have assessed the value of each QHL share by estimating the current value of QHL on a control basis and dividing this value by the number of shares on issue.

If QHL shareholders are receiving equal to, or more than, our assessment of the market value of QHL shares, then the Proposed Scheme would be fair. If the consideration is less than our assessment of the market value of QHL shares, then the Proposed Scheme would be not fair.

2.3 Approach to evaluation of reasonableness

ASIC Regulatory Guide 111 considers an offer in respect of a control transaction, to be reasonable if either:

- the offer is fair
- despite not being fair, but considering other significant factors, shareholders should accept the offer in the absence of any higher bid before the close of the offer.

To assess the reasonableness of the Proposed Scheme we considered the following factors in addition to determining whether the Proposed Scheme is fair:

- the extent to which QHL shareholders are receiving a premium for control
- the likely market price and liquidity of QHL shares in the absence of the Proposed Scheme
- cash flows or other benefits available to ASDAM upon achieving 100% ownership of QHL
- the fact that the Proposed Scheme allows QHL shareholders to realise their investment in QHL and removes uncertainty regarding the execution of QHL management's strategy
- the value to an alternative bidder and the likelihood of an alternative offer being made
- whether any other alternatives exist and the advantages and disadvantages of such alternatives
- other implications associated with QHL shareholders rejecting the Proposed Scheme.

Staying at the forefront of technological developments in the industry is an important aspect of maintaining competitive advantage. With this in mind, QHL actively undertakes research and development activities and has established several key partnerships with educational institutions, organisations and industry collectives, specifically:

- Advanced Fibre Cluster Geelong (AFCG): Founding member, collaborating with universities and other composite companies to support the advanced fibre and composites industries
- Australian Composites Manufacturing (ACM CRC): Founding member of ACM CRC where QHL partner with universities (Deakin, RMIT and University of NSW (UNSW)) to develop new manufacturing processes for drone and hydrogen tanks and new material solutions such as high temperature materials for the use in Hypersonic craft
- Deakin University: QHL has a Strategic Research and Education Agreement with Deakin University through undergraduate and PhD projects through departments such as the Institute of Frontier Materials (IFM), the Institute for Intelligent Systems Research and Innovation (IISRI) and Carbon Nexus with research focused on improving the manufacturing process and development of new processes and materials
- RMIT University: ACM CRC, RMIT and Quickstep are optimising drone aerostructures for range through aerodynamics and weight minimisation. Quickstep is also developing optimised designs for manufacture of hydrogen tanks and drone booms through the use of braiding with RMIT.
- NSW Government Clean Technology: partnered with the NSW Office of the Chief Scientist to develop hydrogen drone systems
- Victorian Government: partnered with the Victorian Government to grow the drone eco-system in Geelong
- UNSW: QHL are developing a number of filament wound solutions with UNSW such as hydrogen fuel tanks and optimised rocket motor casings
- Advanced Manufacturing Readiness Facility (AMRF): QHL collaborate with AMRF assisting in facility design for composite manufacturing
- Swinburne: through AirHUB, QHL have developed hydrogen drone conversions and design of hydrogen powered drones
- ASML: Partnering with Urban Air Mobility start-up to produce carbon fibre components for prototypes and assess future manufacturing requirements

3.2 Operational overview

QHL is segmented into the following business units: Structures; Engineering and Development (Drones) previously referred to as QAAM, Services and Corporate.

3.2.1 Structures

The Structures business unit generates revenue primarily through the manufacturing of advanced composite parts for aerospace applications, which are sold under long-term contracts with major aerospace and defence companies. These contracts are based on agreed pricing and a relatively steady stream of volumes, with customers often supporting by way of upfront payment to assist QHL in funding the purchase of raw material inputs which can often have long lead times. The purchase of raw materials, and sale of finished product is predominantly in US dollars. The manufacturing process is undertaken at QHL's facility in Bankstown, Sydney.

QHL sources carbon fibre prepreg materials from US based specialised suppliers to meet industry standards in aerospace and defence. Their manufacturing process, which adopts a number of the technologies used in the advanced composite manufacturing industry outlined in Appendix 1, involves several key steps including:

- Material Cutting: The process begins with precise cutting of carbon fibre prepreg using CNC² ply cutters to ensure accurate dimensions and fibre orientation
- Layup Process: The cut plies are laid up in temperature-controlled clean rooms, utilising laser-guided projection systems to ensure accurate placement
- Curing Methods: QHL employs multiple curing methods, including autoclave curing and post cure oven
- Quality Control: To maintain quality, QHL implements mechanical, ultrasonic NDT (Non-Destructive Testing) and thermal testing along with optical microscopy for thorough inspection of the composite parts.

As is evident through the above, the manufacturing process used by QHL to service customer demand is both technology and manpower intensive, requiring a skilled labour force.

As outlined in Figure 1 and Figure 2, the Structures unit generates nearly all of QHL’s revenue with the largest proportion coming from customers in the United States, followed by Australia.

QHL has a global client base and is an approved supplier to the International F-35 Lightning II Joint Strike Fighter (JSF) Project. Key customers include Northrop Grumman Corporation, Lockheed Martin Corporation and Marand Precision Engineering which represent almost all of Structures’ revenue. The unit produces components such as parts for the JSF Project and C-130J wing flaps. These key customers and the products provided are explained further in Table 5.

Table 5: Key customers

Customer	Products Provided
Lockheed Martin	Composite wing flaps for the C-130J Super Hercules military transporter and LM-100 commercial aircraft variant. QHL has recently secured additional volume and increased pricing for the C-130 program post-MYIII contract, covering deliveries from February 2025 to December 2029 with pricing adjustments effective from February 2025.
Northrop Grumman	31 fuselage components, including doors, panels, and skins for the F-35 JSF. QHL have received purchase orders up to lot 20, firming the demand for component production through to FY27.
Marand Precision Engineering	Components for the JSF program, including support for various aerospace applications. QHL has successfully executed agreements for vertical tail component production. The contract spans production from September 2024 to June 2026, and includes pricing adjustments effective from September 2024.

Source: Company Website, ASX Announcements

In FY24, the above three customers represented 97.1% of the revenues from continuing operations.

In June 2024, in response to decreased customer demand due to excessive inventories in the global supply chain, QHL announced a restructure of the Structures business unit to optimise its operating model. This included reducing the direct production and operational support workforce, transitioning to a leaner operational framework by shifting from a 3-shift to a 2-shift operating pattern, enhancing efficiencies within the leadership, quality, procurement, and engineering teams, aligning processes to better meet customer demand, and reduce inventory based on a just-in-time principles. Refer to Section 3.7 for further detail on the restructure.

QHL also recently announced updates on major contracts with these customers which reflect mutually acceptable volumes and pricing adjustments to account for this excess inventory in the global supply chain. Refer to Section 3.43.4 below which outlines the impact of these pricing renegotiations. on page 17

3.2.2 Engineering & Development - Drones

In 2021, QHL launched a new vertical, QAAM, which develops advanced UAV systems tailored to various applications and is based out of QHL's Geelong facility. Its customers' product range includes high-performance drones designed for surveillance, transport, and other specialised tasks. QHL's customers' UAVs serve multiple sectors, including defence, security, and commercial industries. In defence, their UAVs provide support for intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance missions. For commercial applications, they offer solutions for agriculture, infrastructure inspection and environmental monitoring. As shown in Figure 1 above, the drones business currently represents a small portion of revenue. In the FY24 Annual Report, revenue associated with this business unit is presented within the Structures business, however, QHL views this division as a separate business unit.

In building the drones, QHL utilises its patented out-of-autoclave system, AeroQure™, which differs from traditional composite curing techniques, as it utilises a fluid-based out-of-autoclave method that applies heat and pressure through a Heat Transfer Fluid. This allows for low setup costs, shorter cure cycles, reduced energy consumption, enhanced design flexibility, and the capability to produce complex integrated parts.

Key customers have included Swoop Aero and Carbonix of which QHL obtained an ownership interest in both of these companies. At the time of investment, both companies held capabilities in the design, manufacture and operation of uninhabited solutions with Swoop Aero focused on cargo applications and Carbonix focused on commercial and military applications. QHL signed a contract with Swoop Aero in 2021 to develop low volume and low-cost tooling for the early production runs of Swoop's Kite drone which is used to deliver medical supplies in remote locations. In April 2023, QHL signed its initial contract with Carbonix to manufacture 40 long-range UAVs, which was subsequently renewed due to successful delivery under the initial contract.

Despite these contract wins, Swoop Aero and Carbonix are small, early-stage customers which are continuing to face challenges in proving their business models. This is compounded by the current economic environment and their dependence on government contracts and procurement processes and systems, making it difficult for QHL to secure stable order volumes and timely payments.

As announced in June 2024, QHL is enhancing its Geelong facility to support prototyping for drone components as part of a $1.3m development program. This will be part funded by a $0.9m grant from the Commonwealth Department of Science, Industry and Resources under the Moon to Mars initiative. Further information on Government spending commitments in the industry can be found in Appendix 1.

3.2.3 Services (Discontinued operation)

Established in 2021 through the acquisition of Boeing Defence Australia's aerospace MRO capability based in Tullamarine, the Services business unit specialised in MRO services for aerospace components. Jetstar Airways was a key customer benefiting from QHL's aircraft component support and services. Additionally, QHL partnered with ST Engineering to deliver nacelle MRO services across the Australasia region.

Whilst the business unit generated significant revenue growth, it faced challenges due to slower than anticipated demand growth in the domestic commercial and defence sectors, leading to operating losses. In June 2024, QHL decided to divest the Services business unit following an internal review and instead focus resources on its core Structures business. Having not received any suitable offer from a sale process, a decision was made in late October 2024 to wind down the business unit post formal closure on 31 October 2024. The wind down will be finalised by March 2025, following exit of the Tullamarine lease.

3.2.4 USA initiative

Historically, QHL has sought to establish a physical presence in the US in an attempt to better capitalise on opportunities emanating from its largest market and key customer base. This started in 2007 with manufacturing trials at the NAQCE, followed by the establishment of a business development and supply chain management office in Dallas, Texas and the selection of Wichita, Kansas as the preferred site for its first US production facility in July 2023. Despite these efforts, QHL has since refocused its efforts on its core Structures business and has subsequently scaled back its ambitions for the foreseeable future by closing its Dallas office and limiting its activities.

3.2.5 Corporate

The Corporate unit encompasses management, administration, research, design, and development operations. This unit supports the overall strategic direction and governance of the company, including managing financial risks such as foreign exchange exposure and supply chain cost inflation.

3.3 Key management and employees

The QHL executive leadership team has undergone a number of changes during the past year to facilitate the achievement of the company's refined strategy and in response to the evolving operating environment. Longstanding Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Mark Burgess resigned in October 2024 and Demi Stefanova (formerly Chief Operating Officer) was promoted to interim CEO, ahead of process to appoint a new CEO and Managing Director. Additionally, Martyn Dominy was appointed as interim Chief Financial Officer (CFO) in November 2024.

Approximately 90% of QHL's workforce is based at the Bankstown facility, with the remainder situated in Geelong. Approximately 75% of the employees work in operations, primarily as tradespeople receiving initial in-house training through six-week modules. The next largest group, approximately 15%, consists of engineers who hold university qualifications in engineering and often have aerospace or aviation experience. The remaining staff work in supply chain, finance, commercial, and human resources.

3.4 Historical financial performance

The financial performance of QHL for the financial years ended 30 June 2023 (FY23), 30 June 2024 (FY24) and six months ended 31 December 2024 (H1FY25) is set out below.

Quickstep is required to adopt prevailing accounting standards under IFRS and in line with this the financial statements publicly disclosed (including those disclosed in the Scheme Booklet) by the Company and presented below have been prepared taking account specifically of AASB 16. AASB 16 introduces a concept referred to as a single lessee accounting model that requires lessees (in this case Quickstep) to recognise assets (right of use assets) and liabilities (lease liabilities) for all leases with a term of more than 12 months. In addition, it replaces the recognition of cash rental expense with amortisation (of the right of use asset) and principal and interest expense (relating to the lease liability). In the context of any calculated EBITDA based on financial statements prepared having regard to this standard, it inflates EBITDA (because of the exclusion of cash rental expenses).

We have presented the historical financial performance of the continuing operations of QHL given the decision to cease operating the Services business effective 31 October 2024 and wind it down. Although the Services business had experienced significant increases in revenue in recent years the business historically generated losses which reduced the profitability of the Group.

The Structures business unit accounted for 98.1% and 97.1% of QHL's continuing operations in FY23 and FY24, respectively, and was underpinned by long term contracts with the 3 key customers as outlined in Section 3.2.1. Current production lots under these contracts have agreed pricing and volumes which lead to stable revenues and margins in the medium-term. Pricing (while CPI linked) and volumes for future lots are subject to negotiation under open book pricing arrangements, and may accordingly result in reduced revenues and / or margin pressure. The Drones business unit generates losses due to its subscale and some challenges being experienced by its customers.

Growth for the Structures business in FY24 was negative reflecting a reduction in demand resulting from excess supply chain inventories as well as the fact that volume in FY23 included a component of 'catch up' sales due to downtime in FY22. The decrease in revenue in the Structures business unit in FY24 was partially offset by improvements in Engineering & Development activities (via QHL's drone contracts) which increased its revenue by 57% to $2.6m on the back of increased drone production for partner companies.

The impact of the excess supply chain inventories has continued into H1 FY25. However, recent management actions related to renegotiated contracts with favourable volume and pricing adjustments are expected to flow through via improved revenue from February 2025.

QHL's direct material cost base has remained relatively steady over recent years with the largest proportion related to the cost of input materials. In certain situations, customers assist QHL in funding the purchase of inputs by way of making upfront payments to QHL. This is offset against the invoice when the finished goods are delivered to the customer.

Other major cost contributors are labour and production costs, which have reduced post-restructure of the Structures business given a more efficient manufacturing process and a reduced workforce. This restructure (refer to Section 3.2.1 above) has improved the business based on efficiencies in the production process and better alignment with customer demand. Whilst it was implemented at the start of FY25, it has led to improved margins in H1 FY25, with additional improvement expected in H2 FY25.

The increase in research and development costs in FY24 was largely attributable to the drones business as production ramped up and the company invested in the expansion of its Geelong facility. Corporate and administrative expenses include a restructuring provision of $1.6m in FY24 (nil – FY23) relating to the Structures business. Depreciation and amortisation largely relates to property and equipment (i.e. leased property and equipment) and, to a lesser extent, office furniture and software. Director costs were $0.5m in FY23 and FY24 and amounted to $0.2m in H1 FY25 and relate to fees paid to four non-executive directors. Annual listing costs were c.$0.1m.

Net finance costs mainly comprise of interest and finance charges on borrowings and lease liabilities, and a small adjustment for gains/(losses) on foreign currency. QHL adopts foreign exchange hedging given the reliance on sales from both key customers which are billed, and raw materials which are sourced, in USD. Hedging is done by way of entering forward contracts by hedging against purchases where they take a forward-looking position to purchase currency to meet the demand profile. These hedges are cash settled. QHL have an externally managed treasury function that helps manage these forward contracts.

3.4.2 Normalisation of EBITDA

QHL management's assessment of normalised EBITDA for FY23, FY24 and 1HFY25 is set out in the table below.

Table 8: Normalisation of EBITDA

$m	Reference	FY23	FY24	H1FY25
EBITDA (Post AASB 16, Continuing Operations)	Table 7	4.9	5.0	3.7

Abnormal employee restructuring costs		0.5	-	-
Redundancy expense		-	1.6	0.1

Abnormal advisory costs		-	0.1	0.2
Other		-	-	(0.1)
EBITDA (Normalised, Continuing Operations)		2.7	4.2	3.1
Normalised EBITDA margin		3.0%	4.9%	8.2%

Notes:

1. Excludes goodwill impairment

Source: FY24 Annual report, H1 FY25 Interim Financial Report, QHL management, Deloitte Corporate Finance analysis

The normalisation adjustments primarily relate to the following items:

- Customer provisions: reflects uncertainty on payment for goods produced for a customer and write-off of customer specific inventory
- Abnormal employee restructuring costs: reflects once-off employee restructuring costs relating to a restructure of the engineering department (specifically R&D) across both the Bankstown and Geelong facilities
- Redundancy expense: in FY24 this relates to a c. 20% reduction in headcount of the Structures business, including operational support, to optimise the operating model in light of a reduction in customer demand for F35 components. In H1 FY25, this pertains to termination costs associated with the departure of certain executives offset by the part reversal of the redundancy provision relating to the Structures business
- Legal accrual writeback: removal of writeback of legal accruals (previously held by a foreign controlled entity in Germany) which was no longer necessary and which positively impacted the financials in FY23
- Abnormal advisory costs: comprise costs of external advisors for non-operational matters
- Other: relates to removal of expenses associated with a grant which will be received in H2 FY25 and a share based payment expense reversal due to the incentive scheme not vesting.

Increased normalised EBITDA margin has been driven by the organisational change adopted in H2 FY24, aligning QHL's business structure with key priorities followed by the restructure of the Structures business unit resulting in greater efficiencies and better alignment with customer demand which is flowing through to improved margins in 1H FY25. Management anticipate that the full impact of the restructure of the cost base and the renegotiation of contracts with customers will flow through to improved EBITDA in H2FY25.

1. Comprise of prepayments, net position on forward FX contracts, deferred taxes (excluding those related to tax losses and AASB 16), and employee benefits and obligations
2. Net of deferred taxes
3. Other provisions in FY24 relate to a restructuring provision associated with the Structures business. For 1H FY25, other provisions relate to a reclassification of a prior settlement paid to a departing executive, and grant previously received in respect of the Services business which Quickstep may need to repay given the wind down of that business
4. This reconciles with the total equity balance for the period as outlined in Section 5.4.3 of the Scheme Booklet.

Similar to our analysis of the financial performance of QHL outlined in Section 3.4, the continuing operations excludes the Services business which is captured in discontinued operations.

Since June 2023, there has been a general reduction in net working capital which reflects lower demand in the Structures business as a result of global excess supply chain inventories. The impact of the renegotiated contracts can be seen through the increase in contract liabilities in H1 FY25 (i.e. greater customer prepayments reflecting support from key customers alongside committed volumes).

Contract assets relates to work performed but not billed at the reporting date while contract liabilities is an advance received from customers to fund raw materials and parts required to manufacture customer orders. Once finished goods are shipped, customers receive a reduced invoice, to account for the advance payment under the Payment Based Performance program.

The lower levels of property, plant & equipment since June 2023 reflect recent efforts aimed at improving operational efficiency along with changes in operational requirements. Historically, capital expenditure primarily was maintenance related with some additional growth capital expenditure for equipment, facility expansion and growth in the Services business. Management expect ongoing maintenance capex to approximate $1m per year.

Right-of-use assets and lease liabilities largely relate to the rental of the two continuing operating facilities (Bankstown and Geelong), including some operating equipment, which are both described in Section 3.2.1. The lease make good provision represents the costs associated with the future restoration of leased premises (e.g. removal of leasehold improvements and repair of any associated damage) at the end of the respective lease terms of QHL's Bankstown and Geelong facilities.

Net assets of the Services business primarily consists of trade payables and receivables, inventories, property plant and equipment and software, right-of-use assets and lease liabilities (including make good provision). These assets and liabilities will be liquidated by the Implementation Date.

Investments include $2.0m in Swoop Aero and $1.0m in Carbonix, which both specialise in the design, development, manufacture, and operation of UAVs. Swoop Aero entered liquidation during H1FY25 and management are of the view that the investment is not recoverable and has a fair value of nil. The investment in Carbonix was written off at 31 December 2024 given current market conditions and uncertainty over future customer contracts. Recently, QHL also invested USD 0.35m in TB2 Aerospace LLC (USA), which has a patented drone payload interface system.

Management recognised $1.4m in tax losses despite QHL having $70.8m in gross unused tax losses as at 31 December 2024. QHL considers it prudent to defer recognition until the company generates taxable income more consistently.

Restructuring provision relates to the group providing for redundancy expenses in the Structures unit as explained in Section 3.4.2 above. These restructuring costs were incurred in H1 FY25.

3.6 Shareholders and capital structure

3.6.1 Substantial shareholders

The substantial shareholders as at 31 January 2025 are set out below.

Harvest Lane Asset Management Ltd announced their ownership interest on 12 November 2024 (6.25%) and since that date, and as recently as 7 February 2025, has been increasing their interest (which stands at 19.46% at the date of this report).

The QHL Board collectively own less than 1% of QHL.

3.6.2 Capital structure

As per the Scheme Implementation Deed, there are 71,726,214 quoted shares available for trading on the ASX. There are no performance rights or options on issue.

As at 31 December 2024, QHL had the following external debt facilities in place:

Table 11: Financing Facilities

Facility	Expiry	Effective Interest rate	Total Facility	Amount drawn
Secured loan facility	March 2026	7.48%	$1.8m	$1.8m
Working capital facility	June 2026	7.48%	$10.0m	$10.0m
Overdraft facility	n/a	11.93%	$2.3m	$0.0m

Source: Annual Report, Appendix 4C, H1 FY25 Interim Financial Report

In March 2023, QHL entered into a loan agreement with Commonwealth Bank of Australia (CBA) to refinance its existing ANZ and Export Finance Australia facilities. The new arrangement included a $10.0m working capital facility and a $3.6m term loan. Both facilities have a variable base rate and a fixed margin. The term loan reduces by $0.3m each quarter and is secured against QHL's working capital.

The overdraft facility was obtained to finance the restructure of the of the Structures business. This facility was repaid in full in December 2024 with a full redraw occurring in January 2025. This facility was previously netted against cash when presented on the balance sheet.

Given QHL's profitability, QHL has exceeded its EBITDA and Debt Service Cover covenants since FY23. Prior to 30 June 2023, CBA granted a waiver and modified the covenant compliance dates for June and September 2023. On 30 June 2024, QHL management received an unconditional waiver from CBA, confirming that the loan was not repayable on demand despite exceeding covenants in Q4 FY24. In FY25, no covenants were set for Q1, and those for Q2 were waived. These covenants will be measured quarterly on a continuing basis. In addition, a $0.3m repayment for the term loan which was originally scheduled for Q2 FY25 was deferred. In anticipation of Q3 and Q4 FY25 also being deferred, QHL will be making quarterly payments of $0.6m across September 2025, December 2025 and March 2026 to catch up the deferrals.

3.6.3 Share price performance

The share price performance of QHL relative to the broader market is summarised in the figure below.

Note:

1. Numbered items in graph are reflected throughout the commentary below

Source: S&P Capital IQ, ASX announcements, Deloitte Corporate Finance analysis

Since early 2023, QHL's share price has underperformed the broader Australian share market, which is largely a result of earnings underperformance, a challenging operating environment in key business segments, unexpected changes in the executive leadership team, and the need for significant restructuring efforts across the business.

A significant portion of this share price decline occurred during the first half of CY2023 and aligns with the reductions in H1FY23 revenue and net profit compared to the prior corresponding period (1) followed shortly thereafter with the departure of the company's CFO in March 2023 (2). This resulted in a period of uncertainty for investors surrounding the future direction and stability of the business.

In July 2023, QHL experienced a slight recovery in its share price which was driven by the announcement of a Memorandum of Understanding with Alliance Airlines for a multi-year component repair agreement to support the airline's growing fleet of Embraer E190 aircraft, as well as the announcement of the preferred location for a potential manufacturing facility in the US (3). Throughout the remainder of FY24, QHL's share price tracked a relatively slow decline which did not appear to be driven off any notable announcements and therefore may have been caused by the absence of any substantive improvement in the business over this time.

QHL's share price experienced significant volatility during 1HFY25 which could be attributed to positive news from the completion of the restructure, finalisation of pricing renegotiations with key customers, and earnings upgrades(4), followed by auditor concerns on the ability of the business to operate as a going concern (5) and senior management departures (6).

The announcement of an offer ($0.40 per share initially (7), followed by $0.575 per share revised (8) from ASDAM in November and December 2024 respectively, to acquire QHL led to structural shifts in the share price to approximate these offer prices.

3.7 Strategy and outlook

Having restructured the cost base of the business in late FY24 and H1FY25, and renegotiated pricing with key customers with the impact of this expected to flow to revenues in H2FY25, management anticipate a substantial increase in the EBITDA of the business in H2FY25.

QHL's strategy going forward is centred on the following areas which would require capital investment:

- Expansion into adjacent markets: As explained further in Appendix 1, the Australian Federal Government has committed funding to the GWEO industry including sub-divisions which has resulted in an opportunity for QHL to support local GWEO manufacturing capabilities in the future (currently only in R&D phase). QHL has also identified the following adjacent sectors as key growth opportunities:
 - Air Mobility and Space: Drive growth in space programs and other air mobility verticals
 - Engineering: Next-generation products and solutions that are scalable and meet next generation needs
- Leverage efficiencies from restructure of the Structures business: The recent restructure was a major strategic change for QHL. With this now being fully implemented, the strategy going forward is to leverage the efficiency gains from the Structures business. These efficiencies are unpinned by just-in-time principles for inventory, better alignment of production with customer expectations and the fundamental pillars of the newly established Quickstep Production System (QPS) which empowers more autonomy, utilising technology to streamline planning and workflow processes and the adoption of a leaner leadership organisation
- Engineering-led Growth: Leverage engineering talent to drive growth in composite components, expanding further into defence and autonomous vehicle markets. Further initiatives include customer-funded programs to build a robust pipeline of new production initiatives

Other longer-term options include expansion into the US in order to increase its exposure to its largest market, better service its key customers via local manufacturing, and access opportunities in the emerging segments of the clean technology and UAV sectors.

4 Valuation approach and assumptions

4.1 Valuation summary

We have estimated the enterprise value of QHL to be in the range of $46.8m to $51.0m. After adjusting for other net assets and net debt, this implies a value of between $0.44 and $0.59 per share. A summary of our valuation is set out in the following table:

Table 12: QHL valuation summary

	Section	Low	High
Market multiples approach	Table 13	46.8	51.0
Less: Other liabilities	4.3	(7.2)	(0.2)
Less: Net debt	4.4	(8.2)	(8.2)
Equity value (control basis)		31.3	42.7
Number of shares	4.5	71.7	71.7
Equity value per share		0.44	0.59

Source: Deloitte Corporate Finance analysis

In estimating the enterprise value of QHL, we had primary regard to the market multiples approach. However, we utilised the discounted cash flow approach to cross-check our assessment. Our rationale for selecting these approaches is as follows:

- the market multiples approach confers the benefit of having valuation reference points of comparable businesses. It is commonly used for businesses in a steady and profitable state, as is the case with QHL's core business (i.e. Structures). However, it still requires exercise of judgement to reflect the differences between the subject company and comparable companies when selecting the multiple
- the discounted cash flow approach allows for significantly more flexibility in medium to long-term financial projections. However, it presents challenges with respect to being able to accurately project medium to long-term cash flows, especially due to difficulties with forecasting the impact of future growth and profitability. Given detailed financial projections developed by management were not available, we constructed some high-level projections based on our analysis of the business but felt that such projections could only serve with using the discounted cashflow approach as a cross-check to our primary approach.

Refer to Appendix 2 for a brief discussion of the various valuation methodologies which can be adopted in valuing entities and businesses.

We have selected an enterprise value range of between $46.8m and $51.0m. This value reflects the benefits of the restructuring that has been undertaken to refocus the group on the more profitable aspects of its operations (and equally to improve the profitability of those aspects). In addition, the top end of the valuation range could be viewed as reflecting the value of the platform and optionality it delivers for growth in other adjacencies (especially noting that the core activities could be viewed as having a limited life). Having said this, there are challenges to achieving such growth ambitions as is evident from QHL's recent attempts to develop capabilities in Services and Drones.

We have added to this enterprise value the estimated value of other assets, liabilities and net debt to arrive at the equity value of QHL. These include investments, tax losses that could be available for future utilisation, and liabilities associated with customer prepayments for orders.

The equity value has then been translated into a value per QHL share based on the number of shares expected to be on issue at the Implementation Date.

Our valuation considers market participant benefits, which includes listed company cost savings and cost synergies which QHL shareholders do not currently benefit from.

Our valuation of QHL has been undertaken on a control basis, consistent with the requirements of ASIC RG111.

The analysis supporting the valuation is set out in the following sections.

4.2 Market multiples approach

The market multiples approach involves applying a multiple to estimated earnings. Set out below is a summary of the outcome of the market multiples approach.

Table 13: Valuation based on earnings multiple

	Section	Unit	Low	High
EBITDA (selected)	4.2.1	$m	8.5	8.5
Earnings multiple	4.2.2	Times	5.5x	6.0x
Enterprise value		$m	46.8	51.0

Source: Deloitte Corporate Finance analysis

We have selected EBITDA as an appropriate measure of earnings because multiples based on EBITDA are less sensitive to different financing structures, depreciation and amortisation accounting policies and effective tax rates than multiples based on EBIT or NPAT.

Notwithstanding that Quickstep is required to adopt prevailing accounting standards under IFRS (including AASB 16³), we selected EBITDA on a pre-AASB 16 basis (ie. after deducting rent expense) given Quickstep leases a number of properties and that the expenses associated with these leases are material. EBITDA on a pre-AASB 16 basis is based on statutory EBITDA less rent expense which is a real cost to the business. Excluding this rent expense (by adopting statutory EBITDA) has a disproportionate impact on Quickstep's EBITDA relative to the comparable businesses which could lead to an inaccurate valuation of Quickstep's shares. Consequently, adopting a pre-AASB 16 EBITDA as the basis of valuation allows for a better comparison with the earnings multiples of other comparable companies.

The adopted EBITDA reflects a market participant level of earnings (i.e. including cost savings and synergies that may be available to a market participant) and differs from the earnings achieved by QHL under the current status quo.

4.2.1 Assessment of EBITDA

In selecting a measure of EBITDA for valuation purposes, we considered the following:

- the earnings of the continuing operations of QHL, being Structures and Drones. This excludes the Services business which will be completely wound down by the Implementation Date and the US initiative which generates no earnings
- the historical financial performance of QHL from FY23 through to H1 FY25, adjusted for abnormal or non-recurring revenue and expenses, including cash rent expense (to take account of AASB 16 which does not deduct cash rent expense) as set out in Table 8
- QHL management's expectations of future revenue for the Structures business from existing contracts. This reflects recent renegotiations undertaken as discussed in Section 3.2.1 and Section 3.7, which aren't reflected in H1 FY25 as the renegotiated terms only come into effect from H2 FY25 onwards
- the full impact of the cost base restructure on the continuing operations of QHL as discussed in Section 3.2.1 and Section 3.7 as whilst some of the benefits were experienced in H1 FY25, their complete impact is not expected to be experienced until H2 FY25
- QHL management's expectations for H2 FY25 earnings which take account of the two points mentioned directly above
- the operating margins of companies similar to QHL (refer Table 17), which are indicative of the sustainable level of margins in the sector
- the potential to reduce costs that QHL currently incurs by being a listed company.

We also highlight the following in respect of our assessment of EBITDA:

- no future acquisitions or disposals have been factored into our assessment of EBITDA
- the adopted EBITDA reflects the existing cost base of Drones to reflect the need for QHL to continuously invest in replacement sources of revenue to mitigate the finite life risk of the existing contracts
- we have considered EBITDA on a pre-AASB16 basis, that is, after deducting cash rental costs.

³ Refer to section 3.4 for a detailed explanation of the requirements of AASB 16.

Based on the above considerations, we have selected an EBITDA of $8.5m. This selected EBITDA is based on an H1 FY25 normalised EBITDA of $3.1m (refer Table 8), annualised to $6.2m⁴, plus an additional amount to account for:

- anticipated improvements in normalised EBITDA and EBITDA margins to reflect the full year impact of benefits of the restructure and pricing negotiations (estimated to deliver a c.$1.6m increase in EBITDA) which is forecast to be realised in H2 FY25
- listed company costs and other savings (amounting to $0.7m based on our review of historical expenditure on directors fees, ASX listing fees and other listed company reporting obligations).

We consider it appropriate to annualise H1 FY25 EBITDA (prior to the adjustments noted above) following discussions with Management with respect to expectations for H2 FY25 financial performance and considerations around seasonality and our review of the business which suggested that seasonality does not materially influence operations.

We also note that whilst the company has secured revenue from existing contracts that extend for c.2 years, the historical normal tenure of contracts is between 5 and 10 years with a track record of contract renewal or renegotiation with the same customers every 2-3 years (for quantity and price re-negotiations) given the cost for customers to change suppliers and the long lifecycle of the end products to which these contracts relate. It is our understanding, based on our review of the comparable companies and discussions with management that this approach to contract management is common in the industry.

Our selected EBITDA is higher than historical EBITDA achieved and reported by QHL. However, we consider this to be reasonable recognising recent initiatives by QHL management to restructure the business (both from a revenue and cost perspective for existing operations) and focus it on profitable activities (i.e. shut down of the Services business) and comparable company margins which provide evidence of a sustainable level of profitability in the sector.

4.2.2 Assessment of earnings multiple

In selecting an appropriate earnings multiple, we considered the earnings multiples observed from share market prices of listed comparable companies and the implied multiple paid to acquire companies with operations similar to QHL.

With respect to the listed comparable companies, there are no listed Australian composite manufacturers that manufacture components primarily for the aerospace and defence industries, and as such, we had regard to mid-sized companies according to the categories outlined below:

- listed Australian companies that operate within the advanced manufacturing industry, with a focus on producing high-quality materials and engineering solutions for various industries
- global advanced composite manufacturers that utilise similar technologies to produce lightweight, high-strength materials tailored for industries such as aerospace, automotive and defence.

We considered but placed limited reliance on global aviation and aviation component manufacturers that are primarily involved in the provision of engineering and manufacturing services for the aerospace industry across both military and commercial applications, as these companies are significantly larger, more diverse, have greater control of the supply chain and consequently trade at different multiples.

In respect of the transactions, we had regard to the last 5 years where the target company primarily manufactured composite materials and components.

The listed companies and transactions that we consider most relevant are set out in the table below, with the full list considered being set out in Appendix 3 and Appendix 4 respectively.

⁴ H1 FY25 normalised EBITDA of $3.1m multiplied by 2 to reflect a full year estimate.

As noted above in the note to the table, the references to EBITDA in the table above are to EBITDA after deductions for rent expenses (referred to as pre-AASB 16 (or US GAAP equivalent) EBITDA). Further discussion as to why we have adopted this approach is set out in Section 4.2 above. The basis of calculation is also set out in Appendix 3 and Appendix 4.

We summarise our considerations in respect of the comparable listed companies below:

- although not producing highly comparable products to QHL, the customer bases of the Australian advanced manufacturing companies are predominantly major industrial players that service large contracts which require high levels of precision and reliability. Consequently, these companies are also generally exposed to similar macro-economic factors impacting the Australian market, including shortages of skilled labour and high input cost and raw materials inflation
- despite disparities in geographical presence, the global advanced composite manufacturing companies are predominantly mid-sized players, all servicing aerospace and defence industries. These companies are likely subject to a similar macro-economic environment and set of competitive dynamics to QHL
- Matrix Composites & Engineering manufactures composite solutions for customers primarily in the oil and gas, mining, and defence sectors. Although not serving Aerospace customers directly, the company's size, business model, product offering and margins are comparable to QHL, whilst its growth is slightly higher. It is trading on EBITDA multiple of 5.9x (2025 earnings)
- LaserBond develops advanced composite materials to enhance the operating performance and wear life of machinery components. LaserBond's size, business model, product offering, and focus on customers in industries that require high-performance materials and components is comparable to QHL. Whilst LaserBond has higher margins and growth relative to QHL, it experienced operating disruptions in FY24 and this appears to be reflected in its EBITDA multiple of 4.8x (2025 earnings)

- SGL Carbon develops carbon-based products for the automotive, aerospace, and energy sectors. Despite a higher degree of diversification in their customer base and industry reach, we regard SGL Carbon as being comparable to QHL due to the advanced nature of their manufacturing processes and overlapping aerospace applications. SGL Carbon's EBITDA margins and growth are higher than QHL. It traded on an EBITDA multiple of 3.2x (2025 earnings) but its share price has been declining recently despite equity research analysts' views that the fundamental value of the company is higher
- Korvest manufactures steel and metal related products, and the advanced nature of their manufacturing processes and distribution to large clients across related sectors is comparable to QHL. Korvest's EBITDA margin is higher than that for QHL, and it is trading on a 2024 multiple of 6.7x (a 2025 multiple is not available due to limited equity research analysts' forecasts)
- the identified ASX listed advanced manufacturing companies generated a higher median margin and growth to QHL. The median EBITDA multiple of this group was 5.8x (2025 earnings)
- the identified global advanced composite manufacturers generated a similar median margin but are expected to experience higher growth. The median EBITDA multiple of this group was 5.9x (2024) and 5.2x (2025)
- as noted above, the global aviation and aviation component manufacturers are much larger and more diversified in their product offerings and business models when compared with QHL and in this regard, we have placed less reliance on these companies given they trade at much higher multiples. Companies in this category include two of QHL's major customers such as Lockheed Martin and Northrop Grumman who trade at EBITDA multiples of 14.4x and 17.0x, respectively
- the EBITDA multiples implied by share prices reflect the value of a portfolio interest, which does not confer control. The quantum of any control premium largely depends on the ability of the acquirer to extract operational improvements in the target, and this depends on the specific circumstances of the bidder and target, not to mention other factors such as bidder tension in the sale process. Considering QHL is a specialised manufacturer providing a discrete part in the overall supply chain, we consider the likely buyer for the business to be an industry player (as illustrated by the comparable transactions). Whilst QHL has already largely eliminated operating inefficiencies post restructure, there are still likely to be operational improvements associated with being part of a larger group such as but not limited to further back-office efficiencies and greater ability to negotiate terms with suppliers.

Our key considerations in respect of the comparable transactions are:

- the EBITDA multiples implied by the comparable transactions would likely include premiums paid by the acquirers to access cost and revenue synergies, part of which may be specific to them. In contrast, the EBITDA multiples implied by listed companies typically would not include premiums for control. However, we note that the concept of control premium should not be confused with takeover premiums (which are evident in takeovers of listed companies) and it would be inappropriate to attempt to translate a takeover premium into a control premium other than to highlight that a control premium would be lower than a takeover premium
- Société Anonyme Belge de Constructions Aéronautiques (SABCA) was acquired in February 2020 at a multiple of 6.3x. SABCA was engaged in the study, design, and manufacture of composite structures, systems, and sub-assemblies for the aerospace, civil aviation, and defence markets in Europe. On balance, its historical EBITDA margin of 8.5% is not dissimilar to QHL
- Von Roll was acquired in August 2023 at a multiple of 7.5x. Von Roll is primarily involved in the production and distribution of composite materials and machined parts for various industries across Europe, Asia, and the Americas. It has a higher EBITDA margin and is larger in size compared to QHL
- various other transactions in the Australian defence engineering sector that we are aware of.

4.2.3 Selected multiple

We have selected an EBITDA multiple in the range of 5.5x to 6.0x having regard to the following:

- it has been selected by us inclusive of a control premium but also noting that some of the direct benefits associated with control have been factored into our assessment to EBITDA in Section 4.2.1 above. In respect of this, we highlight that have been cognisant of the risk of double-counting the control premium (through the selected EBITDA and the selected multiple). Further, we note the quantification of a control premium is judgemental in nature given the inability to determine the portion of a takeover premium that can be attributable to a control premium from the comparable transactions, or to observe what portion of a comparable company's share price may reflect a control premium due to potential interest in the business which may not be widely known, which would form a basis from which to specifically define a control premium range applicable to QHL
- it is not inconsistent with the SABCA transaction multiple (6.3x), which reflects the acquisition of a controlling interest in a similar operating business of similar size

- Whilst we note that it would be inappropriate to directly compare any listed company multiple with our selected multiple because the earnings base used in respect of the calculation of the multiple for the listed company does not include the benefits of control which have been factored into our assessment of earnings (specifically our selected EBITDA for QHL as set out in Section 4.2.1 includes listing and other cost savings), on the basis quoted in the table above:
 - it is similar to Matrix (5.9x) which is a similar business to QHL
 - it is higher than the LaserBond multiple (4.8x) which is also a similar business to QHL but LaserBond experienced operating disruptions which impacted its multiple
 - it is lower than similar sized comparables, Korvest (6.7x), given its relatively lower margins and/or growth
 - it is supported by the comparable median multiples of the global advanced composite manufacturers (5.9x (2024) and 5.2x (2025)).

4.2.4 Cross check - Discounted cash flow method

The discounted cash flow approach estimates the enterprise value by discounting a company's future cash flows to their net present value provided that the future cash flows that are expected to be derived from a business are capable of being estimated with a reasonable degree of confidence.

As management have not provided long term forecasts, we consider the discounted cash flow method high level in nature and only suitable as a cross-check to determine if the value derived from the primary valuation approach, being the market multiples approach as discussed above, is reasonable.

The discounted cash flow method requires the determination of the following:

- future cash flows of the business
- an estimate of the terminal value growth rate
- an appropriate discount rate to be applied to the future cash flows.

Our considerations on each of these factors are presented below.

4.2.5 Future cash flows

The starting point of the cash flow projections was the historical performance of the business, including the year to date performance in FY25. In developing their annual budgets, QHL management note the following key considerations:

- revenues are based on key long terms contracts which are pre-determined and are long term in nature making revenue relatively easy to predict in the near future. QHL is provided with demand profiles from customers which are usually locked in for periods of 18-24 months
- historical performance is used as a key determinant for the forecast cost base.

QHL management provided a high level financial performance forecast for 2H FY25, combined with revenue forecasts for FY26 and FY27. In the absence of more detailed forecasts prepared by management, we have determined our own forecasts with the following key assumptions:

- cash flows reflect those generated by QHL's continuing operations (i.e. Structures and Drones) in order to align with the earnings base adopted under our primary valuation approach. This includes the cost base of Drones given the need to invest in replacement sources of revenue to mitigate the finite life risk of existing contracts
- FY25 revenue is based on the annualisation of H2 FY25 forecast for the continuing business which reflects the full benefit of recent restructures and pricing renegotiations that have been undertaken
- FY26 and FY27 revenue is based on a combination of contracted revenue and customer forecasts which are then grown at 2.5% thereafter given the allowance for inflation in these contracts, along with the historical propensity of customers to accept inflation linked increases in prices
- forecast EBITDA margin is based on the implied earnings base adopted under our primary approach (inclusive of rental expense). This margin is broadly consistent with the median margin of our comparable companies considered under our primary approach
- capital expenditure is based on a historical annual average (% of revenue) to reflect the need to invest in new sources of revenue
- depreciation is based on a run-off of the existing property, plant and equipment and 10 year life on maintenance capital expenditure

- net working capital (as % of revenue) is based on the average net working capital for FY23 and FY24. This is consistent with the historical level of net working capital (as % of revenue) of QHL around April, which is the time of the year when the Proposed Scheme is expected to be implemented
- 30% Australian corporate tax rate. We excluded the utilisation of tax losses given this is not included in our multiples based valuation, but accounted for as a surplus asset adjustment to derive the equity value.

4.2.6 Terminal growth rate

We have estimated a terminal value at the end of a 10 year forecast period using the perpetuity growth formula. Our assessment of the terminal growth rate has had regard to long term inflation forecasts in Australia. Whilst we note that a number of the programs QHL is servicing have limited lives (which generally speaking extend to the late 2030s), we consider an assumption of growth rate into perpetuity appropriate given we are also assuming capital expenditure investment to develop new sources of revenue.

4.2.7 Discount rate assessment

The discount rate used to equate the future cash flows to a present value reflects the risk adjusted rate of return demanded by a hypothetical investor.

Discount rates are determined based on the cost of an entity's debt and equity weighted by the proportion of debt and equity selected. We have used the modified Capital Asset Pricing Model to assess the cost of equity. This model calculates the minimum rate of return that the company must earn on the equity financed portion of its capital. We are of the opinion that the modified Capital Asset Pricing Model is appropriate as this takes account of company specific factors through the company specific risk premium.

We used the following inputs in applying this model:

- a cost of equity of 12.5% to 14.1% based on:
 - a risk-free rate of 4.4% based on the five-day average of the ten-year Australian government bond as at 31 January 2025. A risk-free rate compensates the investor for the time value of money and the expected inflation rate over the investment period
 - an equity market risk premium of 5.0% based on Deloitte Corporate Finance's current view on the market cost of equity
 - an unlevered beta of 1.0 to 1.1 having regard to the betas of the comparable companies identified in Appendix 3, industry betas published by Aswath Damodaran⁵ for the aerospace/defence sectors, and the volatility of earnings generated by these businesses. This results in a levered beta of 1.12 to 1.24 based on our selected gearing assumption
 - company specific risk premium of 2.5% to 3.5% to reflect factors such as:
 - QHL's reliance on a limited number of customers who have significant commercial influence over small businesses such as QHL when negotiating terms
 - the finite life of QHL's key contracts and the difficulty in generating alternative sources of revenue to mitigate this risk
 - the significant levels of capital expenditure and long lead times required to realise new commercial opportunities.
- a net debt to enterprise value ratio of 15% based on gearing levels observed for comparable companies, current and projected levels of net debt as well as QHL's capacity to service debt
- a pre-tax cost of debt of 7.5%, based on the prevailing cost of debt on QHL's existing debt facilities
- a tax rate of 30% which is consistent with the Australian corporate tax rate at the date of this report.

⁵ Aswath Damodaran's industry betas as at 5 January 2025

Based on the above, we have selected a base discount rate in the range of 11.5% to 12.5%. Recognising the size of QHL, the dependency on key customers and QHL's position in the supply chain, we do not consider such a rate to be unreasonable.

4.2.8 Conclusion on discounted cash flow valuation

Based on our cash flow and discount rate assumptions outlined above, the enterprise valuation of QHL using the discounted cash flow method is in the range of $45.0m to $52.0m.

A comparison to our valuation assessed using our primary approach is outlined in the table below.

Table 15: Comparison of primary approach and cross-check

	Section	Unit	Low	High
Discounted cash flow (cross-check)	4.2.4	$m	45.0	52.0
Earnings multiple (primary)	Table 13	$m	46.8	51.0

Source: Deloitte Corporate Finance analysis

We consider our discounted cash flow cross-check broadly supports our enterprise valuation of QHL derived under our primary approach.

4.3 Other assets and liabilities

When considering other assets and liabilities, we have adopted a low and high range which considers the potential value of these assets and liabilities:

Table 16: Other assets and liabilities

		Low	High
Investments	$m	0.6	1.6
Tax losses	$m	-	6.1
Net working capital surplus (deficiency)	$m	(7.8)	(7.8)
Other liabilities - total	$m	(7.2)	(0.2)

Source: QHL Management, Deloitte Corporate Finance analysis

We note the following in respect of the above:

- Investments: This consists of QHL's minority investments in Carbonix and TB2 Aerospace LLC as mentioned in Section 3.5. The bottom end of the range selected by us is aligned with the position taken by QHL as at 31 December 2024 whilst the top end of range recognises the historical invested value. Swoop Aero was liquidated in H1 FY25 and the investment in the company is not viewed as recoverable.
- Tax losses: QHL has significant gross tax losses of $70.8m for which no asset has been recognised, and $75.5m if recognised amounts on the balance sheet are included. In our assessment of the value of QHL's tax losses, we have adopted a weighting of between 0% and 50% of the present value impact of these tax losses in recognition of the challenges a market participant purchaser would have in being able to utilise them. Our value of these tax losses represents only up to 8% of the gross value which we consider reasonable given the risks of utilisation.

Our enterprise valuation as set out above does not include the value of any tax losses, which is considered as a separate item.

The company has historically recognised some (but not all) tax losses and based on our discussions with management, we understand that given the uncertainty over future profitability, the auditor felt it was prudent and consistent with accounting standards to only recognise some of the value of these tax losses. Our discussions with management also confirmed that they are of the view that from 1 July 2025 onwards, and subject to the continued improvement in profitability in H2 FY25, they consider they may be in a position to recognise more tax losses.

In addition, we also note that if Quickstep was to continue as a standalone entity and generate profits (which is implicit in our valuation and expected by management), it would not pay tax on those profits for some time and this would be a benefit that would ultimately accrue to Quickstep shareholders.

Whilst our assessment of the weighting of 0% to 50% is judgemental in nature, it is based on our experience including discussions with tax experts in respect to the thresholds required for future utilisation of the tax losses (namely tests commonly referred to as 'continuity of ownership' and 'continuity of business').

- Net working capital deficiency: As outlined in Section 3.5, QHL's net working capital has reduced since FY23. As at 31 December 2024, QHL had net working capital of $1.2m for its continuing operations. Our analysis suggested that this is artificially low (as a % of revenue) relative to historical periods and comparable companies. This is in part due to the increase in prepayments from customers (contract liabilities) to assist the business through the long lead times on raw material orders (as at 31 December 2024, receivables after deduction for contract liabilities was $(12.9)m as compared to 30 June 2024 when it was $(2.6)m and at 30 June 2023 when receivables exceeded contract liabilities by $3.7m). This was also confirmed through discussions with Management and reflected specifically the fact that some customers had recently made pre-payments on future orders to assist funding of long lead time of raw material costs.

Based on our experience, we note that working capital adjustments are common in negotiations involving the sale and purchase of businesses. As further evidence of this balance having debt-like characteristics (and thus warranting adjustment), we note that in the period post 31 December 2024, management anticipate net debt increasing as the company seeks to meet its contract liability obligations.

We adopted an adjustment of $(7.8)m, which reflects the difference between the actual working capital of $1.2m and a level of net working capital of 12% of revenue⁶ based on historical analysis of working capital for Quickstep (over the past 4 years) and as also supported by an analysis of the working capital of the comparable companies.

4.4 Net debt

QHL's net debt is projected to be $8.2m at the Implementation Date. This is based on:

- forecast debt of $14.1m, which is based on existing debt of $11.8m at 31 December 2024, along with an expected drawdown of funds required from Quickstep's overdraft facility taking debt to $14.1m
- forecast cash balance of $5.9m, which reflects:
 - the expected impact of cash payments and receipts in the ordinary course of business along with the satisfaction of outstanding provisions and costs associated with the wind-down of the Services business post 31 December 2024 and up until Implementation Date
 - additional cash that will become available from the drawdown of the overdraft facility
 - non-contingent costs associated with the transaction which will be incurred by Implementation Date.

4.5 Number of shares outstanding

As discussed in Section 3.6.2, the number of shares issued is anticipated to be 71.7m at the Implementation Date.

⁶ Revenue of $76m, reflecting an annualisation of H1 FY25 revenue of $38m.

Appendix 1: Industry considerations

QHL is an advanced aerospace engineering and composite materials manufacturing company, primarily servicing customers in the military aerospace industry. In this regard, we have focused our industry analysis on sectors relating to Global Military Aircraft and Aerospace Manufacturing, and Advanced Composite Manufacturing.

Global Military Aircraft and Aerospace Manufacturing

Industry overview

The global military aircraft and aerospace manufacturing industry encompasses a wide range of activities related to the production of military aircraft, missiles, and aerospace vehicles, alongside the design and manufacturing of the associated parts and servicing requirements. Industry revenue was estimated at approximately USD339 billion in 2024 and is forecast to grow at a CAGR of 8.4% over the next 10 years, to USD760 billion by 2034⁷. Primary catalysts for growth include increases in sovereign defence spending amid geopolitical tensions and military modernisation efforts, advancements in technology including UAVs (drones) and guided weapons, and the evolving role of military aircraft in non-combat scenarios.

Global defence spending

Many of the world's developed nations are increasing their spending on defence in response to global geopolitical tensions and advancements in technology. During 2024, Australia, the US and the United Kingdom's total government spending on defence was AUD53.3 billion⁸, USD824.3 billion⁹, and GBP53.9 billion¹⁰ respectively, which represents 2.0%⁸, 2.7%¹¹, and 2.3%¹⁰ of each nation's GDP.

The Australian Federal Government has announced plans to increase annual spending on Defence to approximately AUD100 billion by fiscal year 2034, which would constitute approximately 2.3% of GDP⁸. The Australian Government has also announced a commitment of between AUD58 billion to AUD74 billion¹² to the development of guided weapons and explosive ordnance as part of the Australian Guided Weapons and Explosive Ordnance (GWEO) Plan, which aims to deliver a transformative uplift to the nation's defence capabilities over the next decade. Central to this strategic initiative is an investment of AUD500 million¹² towards Australian businesses to promote the local manufacturing of components and sub-systems for Australian-made GWEO.

Further, in light of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, pressure has been mounting on members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to increase their defence spending targets from 2.0% of GDP to 5.0% of GDP¹³ to increase military capabilities throughout Europe. Set out in the figure below are the current defence spending rates for NATO member nations as a percentage of GDP in 2024.

Industry structure

The industry is largely characterised by a concentrated market structure, dominated by a few major players with broad based capabilities who collectively control a c.60% market share¹⁴. Smaller operators tend to be niche players who produce specific aircraft components and accessories or provide specialist servicing capabilities. A significant portion of expenditure is on the aircraft itself (c.60%)¹⁴, followed by missiles, aircraft componentry and associated services. It also encompasses prototype development, aircraft conversion, and maintenance services.

Government support for Australia-based advanced manufacturing

The Australian Federal Government is actively supporting modern and advanced manufacturing, particularly within the defence sector, through various strategic initiatives and funding programs. This commitment is part of a broader effort to enhance Australia’s advanced manufacturing capabilities while promoting national security through enhanced local production capabilities. Some of the key strategic initiatives related to defence include:

- Modern Manufacturing Strategy (MMS): Focused on six priority sectors, including defence, the MMS is an AUD1.5 billion¹⁵ initiative aimed at transforming Australian manufacturing by assisting manufacturers with scaling up operations, improving competitiveness, and building stronger supply chains
- Advanced Manufacturing Growth Fund: Providing grants ranging from AUD0.5 million to AUD2.5 million, the fund will provide a total AUD47.5 million¹⁶ to support small to medium enterprises in transitioning from traditional manufacturing processes to advanced technologies.

Advanced Composite Manufacturing

Overview of composite manufacturing

Composite materials can generally be described as engineered materials made from two or more constituent substances that possess distinct physical or chemical properties. The primary constituents in composite materials typically include a matrix material and reinforcement material. The combination of substances within a composite material achieves enhanced characteristics that are superior to those of the individual components, typically providing improved strength and durability. The primary composite material categories are classified based on their matrix type, which are either polymer, metallic or ceramic based.

The industry employs several advanced technologies across the manufacturing process to produce high-performance composites. These include:

- Automated Fiber Placement (AFP), which uses robotic arms to precisely lay pre-impregnated fibre tapes onto moulds, activating the resin with heat for optimal bonding
- Automated Tape Laying (ATL), which applies wider tape strips for faster layup of large structures
- Autoclave moulding, which cures prepreg materials in a sealed environment under heat and pressure, ensuring high fibre volume and low void content
- Filament Winding, which wraps continuous fibre strands around a rotating mandrel for customizable orientations
- Resin Transfer moulding (RTM), which injects resin into a closed mould with dry fibres
- Compression moulding, which shapes heated composite materials under pressure.

Demand and supply

The global market for advanced composite manufacturing was estimated at USD34 billion in 2021 and is projected to grow at a CAGR of 10.2% to USD88 billion by 2031¹⁷. Demand is primarily driven by the aerospace and defence industries, where advanced composite materials are crucial for reducing weight and enhancing the performance of aircraft, vehicles, and other advanced equipment. The total demand in these industries is forecast to grow at a CAGR of 10.5%¹⁷ through to 2031, underpinned by the rising need for more fuel-efficient aircraft and the modernisation of sovereign aerospace defence capabilities.

Despite this growth, the industry faces a number of challenges which impact the supply response. Notably, the complexity of the design and production process which involves intricate procedures, specialised equipment, skilled labour, and high degrees of precision, all contribute to significant time and cost constraints which restrict large-scale production efforts. This, combined with patent access, capital expenditure requirements, high start-up costs and strict regulations (concerning safety, environmental impacts, and quality standards) contribute to high barriers to entry and constraints to breadth of capability.

This has led to established players forming strategic partnerships to enhance their capacities and expand their reach into emerging markets, whilst new entrants tap niche or underdeveloped sub-segments. Particularly, the past decade has been characterised by a notable increase in joint ventures, mergers and acquisitions within the industry as companies seek opportunities to secure long-term contracts with trusted partners to ensure sustainable operations on a global scale.

A selection of the market leaders in the design and manufacturing of advanced composite materials include Toray Industries, Inc., Hexcel Corporation, Solvay SA, Teijin Limited, and SGL Carbon SE.

Appendix 2: Valuation methodologies

Common market practice and the valuation methodologies which are applicable to corporate entities and businesses can be categorised under one of the following three approaches.

Market approach

The market approach involves the determination of fair value having regard to pricing and other metrics implied by market trading or transactions of comparable assets. Valuation methods commonly adopted under the market approach include:

- earnings multiples
- analysis of an entity's recent share trading history
- industry specific methods.

The earnings multiple method estimates fair value as the product of an entity's earnings and an appropriate earnings multiple. An appropriate earnings multiple is derived from market trading and/or transactions involving comparable companies. The earnings multiple method is appropriate where the entity's earnings are relatively stable.

The most recent share trading history provides evidence of the fair value of the shares in an entity where they are publicly traded in an informed and liquid market.

Industry specific methods estimate market value using rules of thumb for a particular industry. Generally, rules of thumb provide less persuasive evidence of the market value of an entity than other valuation methods because they may not account for entity specific factors.

Income approach

The income approach involves the determination of fair value based on the present value of future amounts. The discounted cash flow method estimates fair value by discounting an entity's future cash flows using an appropriate cost of capital to reflect the risks of the cash flows, to a net present value. This method is appropriate where a projection of future cash flows can be made with a reasonable degree of confidence, and is commonly used to value early stage companies or projects with a finite life.

Other methods under the income approach include option pricing models (such as Black Scholes-Merton formula or a binomial model) and the multi-period excess earnings method in the case of valuing intangible assets.

Cost approach

The cost approach involves the determination of fair value based on the cost of replacement. Valuation methods under the cost approach estimate the fair value of an entity's shares based on the realisable value of its identifiable net assets, and typically comprise:

- orderly realisation of assets method
- liquidation of assets method
- net assets on a going concern basis.

The orderly realisation of assets method estimates fair value by determining the amount that would be distributed to shareholders, after payment of all liabilities including realisation costs and taxation charges that arise, assuming the entity is wound up in an orderly manner. The liquidation method is similar to the orderly realisation of assets method, except that it assumes the assets are sold in a shorter time frame. Since wind up or liquidation of the entity may not be contemplated, these methods in their strictest form may not necessarily be appropriate. The net assets on a going concern basis method estimates the fair value of the net assets of an entity, after deduction for the costs of operating the net assets of the business, but does not take account of realisation costs.

These methods ignore the value of intangible assets such as customer lists, management, supply arrangements and goodwill which may not be recognised on the balance sheet. Asset based methods are appropriate when companies are not profitable, or a significant proportion of an entity's assets are liquid, or for asset holding companies.

The parties agree

1 Defined terms and interpretation

1.1 Definitions in the Dictionary

A term or expression starting with a capital letter which is defined in the dictionary in Schedule 1 has the meaning given to it in the dictionary.

1.2 Interpretation

The interpretation clause in Schedule 1 sets out rules of interpretation for this Scheme.

2 Preliminary matters

- (a) Target is an Australian public company limited by shares, and has been admitted to the official list of ASX. Target Shares are quoted for trading on the ASX.
- (b) As at the date of the Scheme Implementation Deed, there were 71,726,214 Target Shares quoted for trading on the ASX.
- (c) Bidder is a Australian private proprietary company.
- (d) Bidder and Target have entered into the Scheme Implementation Deed in respect of (among other things) the implementation of this Scheme.
- (e) This Scheme attributes actions to Bidder but does not itself impose any obligations on Bidder to perform those actions. By executing the Deed Poll, Bidder has agreed to perform the actions attributed to it under this Scheme. By executing the Deed Poll, Bidder agrees to perform its obligations under the Deed Poll, including payment of the Scheme Consideration in accordance with the terms of this Scheme.
- (f) Pursuant to clause 2.1(d) of the Scheme Implementation Deed, Bidder may nominate a wholly owned Subsidiary of Bidder (Bidder Sub) to acquire the Scheme Shares by giving written notice to Target on or before the date that is 5 Business Days before the First Court Date (Sub Notification) in accordance with the Scheme Implementation Deed. If Bidder nominates a Bidder Sub, then clause 2.1(e) of the Scheme Implementation Deed provides that:
 - (i) references in the Scheme Implementation Deed to Bidder acquiring the Scheme Shares under the Scheme, or taking any other action under or in respect of the Scheme, are to be read as references to the Bidder Sub doing so;

- (ii) Bidder must procure that Bidder Sub complies with the relevant obligations of Bidder under the Scheme Implementation Deed; and
 - (iii) despite paragraphs 2.1(e)(i) and 2.1(e)(ii) of the Scheme Implementation Deed, Bidder will continue to be bound by all of the obligations of Bidder under the Scheme Implementation Deed, including the obligation to execute and deliver the Deed Poll, and will not be released from any obligations or liabilities under the Scheme Implementation Deed following the Sub Notification. However, Target agrees that Bidder will not be in breach of, and will have no liability under, the Scheme Implementation Deed for failing to discharge an obligation of Bidder under the Scheme Implementation Deed if the Bidder Sub fully discharges that obligation.

3 Conditions

3.1 Conditions precedent

This Scheme is conditional on and will not become Effective until and unless the following conditions precedent are satisfied:

- (a) all the conditions in clause 3.1 of the Scheme Implementation Deed (other than the condition in clause 3.1(d) of the Scheme Implementation Deed relating to Court approval of this Scheme) are satisfied or waived in accordance with the terms of the Scheme Implementation Deed;
- (b) neither the Scheme Implementation Deed nor the Deed Poll is terminated in accordance with its terms;
- (c) this Scheme is approved by the Court under section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act, including with any alterations made or required by the Court under section 411(6) of the Corporations Act and agreed to in writing by Target and Bidder;
- (d) such other conditions made or required by the Court under section 411(6) of the Corporations Act in relation to this Scheme and agreed to in writing by Target and Bidder are satisfied or waived; and
- (e) the order of the Court made under section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act approving this Scheme comes into effect pursuant to section 411(10) of the Corporations Act on or before the End Date.

3.2 Certificates

- (a) Each of Target and Bidder will provide a certificate to the Court at the Second Court Hearing confirming (in respect of matters within their respective knowledge) whether or not the conditions precedent in clauses 3.1(a) and 3.1(b) above have been satisfied or waived.
- (b) The certificates referred to in clause 3.2(a) given by Target and Bidder constitute conclusive evidence that the conditions precedent in clauses 3.1(a) and 3.1(b) above have been satisfied or waived.

3.3 Termination and End Date

Without limiting any rights under the Scheme Implementation Deed, if:

- (a) the Scheme Implementation Deed or the Deed Poll is terminated in accordance with its terms before the Scheme becomes Effective; or
- (b) the Effective Date has not occurred on or before the End Date, then this Scheme will lapse and be of no further force or effect and each of Bidder and Target are released from any further obligation to take steps to implement this Scheme.

4 Implementation of this Scheme

4.1 Lodgement of Court orders with ASIC

Provided the conditions precedent set out in clause 3.1 of this Scheme (other than the condition precedent in clause 3.1(e)) are satisfied, for the purposes of section 411(10) of the Corporations Act, Target must lodge with ASIC an office copy of the order made by the Court under section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act approving this Scheme on the first Business Day following the day on which such office copy is received by Target or such later date as Target and Bidder agree in writing.

4.2 Transfer of Scheme Shares

On the Implementation Date:

- (a) subject to the provision of the Scheme Consideration in the manner contemplated by clause 5.2(a) and Target having provided Bidder with written confirmation thereof and the payment of the Scheme Consideration in the manner contemplated by clause 5.2(b), the Scheme Shares, together with all rights and entitlements attaching to them as at the Implementation Date, must be transferred to Bidder, without the need for any further act by any Scheme Shareholder (other than acts performed by Target as attorney and agent for Scheme Shareholders under clause 8.5), by:
 - (i) Target duly completing and executing the Scheme Transfer, duly executed on behalf of the Scheme Shareholders (as transferors), and delivering it to Bidder; and
 - (ii) Bidder duly executing the Scheme Transfer (as transferee), attending to the stamping of the Scheme Transfer (if required) and delivering it to Target for registration; and
- (b) immediately following receipt of the Scheme Transfer in accordance with clause 4.2(a), Target must enter, or procure the entry of, the name of Bidder in the Share Register in respect of all the Scheme Shares transferred to Bidder in accordance with this Scheme.

5 Scheme Consideration

5.1 Entitlement to Scheme Consideration

Subject to the terms of this Scheme, each Scheme Shareholder will be entitled to the Scheme Consideration in respect of each Scheme Share.

5.2 Provision of Scheme Consideration

- (a) Bidder will provide the Scheme Consideration by depositing, or procuring the deposit of, in cleared funds an amount equal to the aggregate Scheme Consideration for all Scheme Shares into the Trust Account no later than the Business Day before the Implementation Date, such amount to be held by Target on trust for Scheme Shareholders (provided that any interest on the amount so deposited (less bank fees and other charges) (Accrued Interest) will accrue for the benefit of Bidder).
- (b) Subject to Bidder having complied with clause 5.2(a), Target must, on the Implementation Date and from the Trust Account, pay to each Scheme Shareholder the Scheme Consideration attributable to that Scheme Shareholder based on the relevant Scheme Shareholder's Scheme Shares, which obligation will be satisfied by Target:
- (i) where a Scheme Shareholder has, before the Record Date, made an election in accordance with the requirements of the Share Registry to receive dividend payments from Target by electronic funds transfer to a bank account nominated by the Scheme Shareholder, paying, or procuring the payment of, the relevant amount in Australian currency by electronic means in accordance with that election; or
 - (ii) whether or not a Scheme Shareholder has made an election referred to in clause 5.2(b)(i), dispatching, or procuring the dispatch of, a cheque drawn on an Australian bank in Australian currency for the relevant amount to the Scheme Shareholder by prepaid post to their Registered Address, such cheque being drawn in the name of the Scheme Shareholder (or in the case of joint holders, in accordance with clause 5.3).
- (c) In the event that:
- (i) either:
 - (A) a Scheme Shareholder does not have a Registered Address; or
 - (B) Target as the trustee for the Scheme Shareholders believes that a Scheme Shareholder is not known at the Scheme Shareholder's Registered Address,and no account has been notified in accordance with clause 5.2(b)(i) or a deposit into such an account is rejected or refunded; or
 - (ii) a cheque issued under clause 5.2(b) has been cancelled in accordance with clause 5.5(a),
- Target as the trustee for the Scheme Shareholders may credit the amount payable to the relevant Scheme Shareholder to a separate bank account of Target (Separate Account) to be held until the Scheme Shareholder claims the amount or the amount is dealt with in accordance with the Unclaimed Money Act 1995 (NSW). To avoid doubt, if the amount is not credited to a Separate Account, the amount will continue to be held in the Trust Account until the Scheme Shareholder claims the amount or the amount is dealt with in accordance with the Unclaimed Money Act 1995 (NSW).
- (d) Until such time as the amount is dealt with in accordance with the Unclaimed Money Act 1995 (NSW), Target must hold the amount on trust for the relevant Scheme Shareholder, but any interest or other benefit accruing from the amount will be to the benefit of Bidder. An amount credited to the Separate Account or Trust Account (as applicable) is to be treated as having been paid to the Scheme Shareholder when credited to the Separate Account or Trust Account (as applicable). Target must maintain records of the amounts paid, the people who are entitled to the amounts and any transfers of the amounts.

- (e) To the extent that there is a surplus in the amount held by Target as the trustee for the Scheme Shareholders in the Trust Account, that surplus may be paid by Target as the trustee for the Scheme Shareholders to Bidder following the satisfaction of Target's obligations as the trustee for the Scheme Shareholders under this clause 5.2.
- (f) Target must pay any Accrued Interest to any account nominated by Bidder following satisfaction of Target's obligations under clause 5.2(b) (and, in any event, on the Implementation Date).

5.3 Joint holders

In the case of Scheme Shares held in joint names:

- (a) any cheque required to be sent under this Scheme will be made payable to the joint holders and sent to the holder whose name appears first in the Share Register as at the Record Date; and
- (b) any other document required to be sent under this Scheme will be forwarded to the holder whose name appears first in the Share Register as at the Record Date.

5.4 Fractional entitlements and splitting

Where the calculation of the Scheme Consideration to be issued to a particular Scheme Shareholder would result in the Scheme Shareholder becoming entitled to a fraction of a cent, the fractional entitlement will be rounded up to the nearest whole cent.

5.5 Cancellation and re-issue of cheques

- (a) Target may cancel a cheque issued under clause 5.2(b) if the cheque:
 - (i) is returned to Target; or
 - (ii) has not been presented for payment within six months after the date on which the cheque was sent.
- (b) During the period of one year commencing on the Implementation Date, on request in writing from a Scheme Shareholder to Target (or the Share Registry) (which request may not be made until the date which is five Business Days after the Implementation Date), a cheque that was previously cancelled under clause 5.5(a) must be reissued.

5.6 Orders of a court or Government Agency

If written notice is given to Target (or the Share Registry) of an order or direction made by a court of competent jurisdiction or by another Government Agency that:

- (a) requires payment to a third party of a sum in respect of Scheme Shares held by a particular Scheme Shareholder, which sum would otherwise be payable to that Scheme Shareholder by Target in accordance with this clause 5, then Target will be entitled to make that payment (or procure that it is made) in accordance with that order or direction; or

- (b) prevents Target from making a payment to a particular Scheme Shareholder in accordance with clause 5.2(b), or such payment is otherwise prohibited by applicable law, Target will be entitled to retain an amount, in Australian dollars, equal to the number of Scheme Shares held by that Scheme Shareholder multiplied by the Scheme Consideration until such time as payment in accordance with this clause 5.6 is permitted by that order or otherwise by law.

5.7 Foreign resident capital gains withholding

If Bidder determines, acting reasonably and in good faith and following consultation with Target, that it must pay an amount to the Commissioner pursuant to Subdivision 14-D of Schedule of the Tax Administration Act 1953 (Cth) (TAA) with respect to the acquisition of the Scheme Shares from a Scheme Shareholder, Bidder will, for any such Scheme Shareholder:

- (a) determine the amount to be paid to the Commissioner (Payment Amount);
- (b) remit the Payment Amount to the Commissioner within the time required under the TAA; and
- (c) reduce the amount of Scheme Consideration payable to that Scheme Shareholder by the Payment Amount for the purposes of the Deed Poll, this Scheme and the Scheme Implementation Deed.

For the avoidance of doubt, Bidder will, for the purposes of the Deed Poll, this Scheme and the Scheme Implementation Deed, be deemed to have satisfied its obligations to pay the Scheme Consideration to a Scheme Shareholder if the amount paid to the Scheme Shareholder is the amount of the Scheme Consideration that would have otherwise been payable to the Scheme Shareholder pursuant to the Scheme, less the Payment Amount for that Scheme.

6 Dealings in Target Shares

6.1 Determination of Scheme Shareholders

To establish the identity of the Scheme Shareholders, dealings in Target Shares or other alterations to the Share Register will only be recognised if:

- (a) in the case of dealings of the type to be effected using CHES, the transferee is registered in the Share Register as the holder of the relevant Target Shares at or before the Record Date; and
- (b) in all other cases, registrable transfer or transmission applications in respect of those dealings, or valid requests in respect of other alterations, are received at or before the Record Date at the place where the Share Register is kept,

6.2 Share Register

- (a) Target must register registrable transmission applications or transfers of Target Shares in accordance with clause 6.1(b) at or before the Record Date, provided that nothing in this clause 6.2(a) requires Target to register a transfer that would result in an Target Shareholder holding a parcel of Target Shares that is less than a 'marketable parcel' (as defined in the operating rules of ASX).
- (b) If this Scheme becomes Effective, a Scheme Shareholder (and any person claiming through that holder) must not dispose of, or purport or agree to dispose of, any Scheme Shares or any interest in them after the Record Date otherwise than pursuant to this Scheme, and any attempt to do so will have no effect and Target will be entitled to disregard any such disposal, purported disposal or agreement.
- (c) For the purpose of determining entitlements to the Scheme Consideration, Target must maintain the Share Register in accordance with the provisions of this clause 6.2 until the Scheme Consideration has been paid to the Scheme Shareholders. The Share Register in this form will solely determine entitlements to the Scheme Consideration.
- (d) All statements of holding for Target Shares (other than statements of holding in favour of Bidder will cease to have effect after the Record Date as documents of title in respect of those shares and, as from that date, each entry current at that date on the Share Register (other than entries in respect of Bidder will cease to have effect except as evidence of entitlement to the Scheme Consideration in respect of the Target Shares relating to that entry.
- (e) As soon as practicable after the Record Date, and in any event within 2 Business Days after the Record Date, Target will ensure that details of the names, Registered Addresses and holdings of Target Shares for each Scheme Shareholder as shown in the Share Register as at the Record Date are available to Bidder in the form Bidder reasonably requires.

1.3 Nature of deed poll

Bidder acknowledges that:

- (a) this deed poll may be relied on and enforced by any Scheme Shareholder in accordance with its terms even though the Scheme Shareholders are not party to it; and
- (b) under the Scheme, from the Effective Date, each Scheme Shareholder irrevocably appoints Target and each of its directors, officers and secretaries (jointly and each of them severally) as its agent and attorney to enforce this deed poll against Bidder.

- (b) undertake all other actions attributed to it or to Bidder Sub (if applicable) under the Scheme, subject to and in accordance with the terms of the Scheme.

 - (d) this deed poll is valid and binding on it and is enforceable against it in accordance with its terms; and
 - (e) this deed poll does not conflict with, or result in the breach of or default under, any provision of its constitution, or any writ, order or injunction, judgment, law, rule or regulation to which it is a party or subject or by which it is bound.

5 Continuing obligations

This deed poll is irrevocable and, subject to clause 2, remains in full force and effect until:
